Dear Mr. Park,

We are a Maltese IFA who promoted the LMIM products in Malta namely the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund.

Mr. Charles Borg is one of those investors who used our services and invested the sum of EUR5,000 in the LM Managed Performance Fund for a 2Y term (copy of contract note attached) . The investment matured on 20th August 2012 which is seven months prior the LMIM filed for voluntary administration.

In August 2012, the Directors of LMIM issued the attached letter regarding the delay on the regular income distribution payment of the said Fund and the reasons set in this letter is that the directors are managing higher than normal currency volatility with the fund but they assured us and our investors that "it is important to note that whilst pending payment your investment has remained at 100% of its capital value and continues to accrue income at the current rate of return" .

On 12th February 2013, just a month prior to the filling of the voluntary administration by LM directors, another letter was issued to us and to our investors putting their mind at rest that their original capital remains at 100% and that the investment will continue to accrue interest at the current rate of return up until the point of redemption.

This is totally misleading and LMIM directors are fully responsible of disclosing such misleading information to IFA and to investors when they were fully aware about the financial problems that the fund is facing.

As per Mr. Borg's instructions, I am forwarding you his email to guide us accordingly and what actions can be taken against LMIM directors re the misleading information which was communicated to our investors.

We would appreciate if you can update us if KordaMentha will be taking legal action against the responsible parties such as directors, Auditors etc.

I am also copying Mr. Borg in the email.

We appreciate your prompt reply,

Regards

LM Investment Management Ltd

Dear Investor,

RE: LM Managed Performance Fund

We refer to your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund and a delay to the payment of your regular income distribution.

We appreciate that many investors have financial requirements that are impacted by a delay in payment. It is important to note that whilst pending payment your investment has remained at 100% of its capital value and continues to accrue income at the current rate of return.

We are currently managing higher than normal currency volatility within the Managed Performance Fund which has affected the cash-flow of the fund. The significant and sharp increase in the AUD in the last 2 months against all of the major currencies has meant that cash previously set aside for investor distributions has been temporarily re-allocated to ensure your foreign currency investment remains hedged and protected from AUD currency movements.

Normal annual margin requirements for the fund are around $20million per year. In the last 5 weeks alone the fund has covered a margin requirement of $13million which has had a significant drain on cash-flow, the foreign currency contingency was fully utilised with a further requirement for additional cash. These margin requirements are not a cost to the fund but do have an impact on the monthly cash position of the fund.

The current cash-flow restraints are not a reflection of the quality of the assets of the fund, but are a result of external factors which are outside of our control. The world has experienced 4 years of turbulence and uncertainty since the onset of the Financial Crisis in 2008 and despite this the Managed Performance Fund has maintained a performance of 3-5%pa above cash rates as well as preserving 100% of investor capital.

We are actively pursuing various liquidity mechanisms within the Managed Performance Fund to see that any future currency movements of this nature are mitigated against.

We apologise for any distress this delay may cause and assure you that we are acting in best interests to ensure your investment is protected during this volatile period within the market.

Your financial advisor, MFSP Financial Management Ltd, will keep you updated as to the progress of your payment.

Yours sincerely,

The Directors

Dear Client

Ref: H-00002 LM Managed Performance Fund - USD 1Y (T08-11)

We write to you regarding a delay in payment of your redemption from the LM Managed Performance Fund. We confirm that your investment remains at 100% of its original capital value and you continue to accrue interest at the current rate of return up until the point of redemption. Delaying your redemption is not a decision we take lightly but is a necessary measure to ensure that your capital is preserved during this volatile period. We are sorry for any distress that this delay is causing you.

The prime objective of the LM funds is to deliver income to investors whilst protecting capital value. In order to do this and to be able to best protect investors from external market volatility the Fund has the mechanism which allows LM, in certain "out of the ordinary" market conditions, to actively control the rate of redemption payments from the fund which may result in longer redemption payment timeframes than would be the case in normal market conditions. The fund has a track record of 12 years and this is the first time that the need to utilise this management mechanism had arisen. This management mechanism is obvious and logical for assets that being property related, are not instantly liquid. It has proven effective in protecting capital and providing continued performance for investors.

As an Australian Funds Manager and Responsible Entity we are governed and monitored by ASIC, the Australian Securities and Investment Commission. As outlined in the Fund Constitution we must treat all investors within the fund fairly and equally and as such we are bound to act in accordance with the fund Information Memorandum. As the Fund Manager LM has a duty to all investors to ensure the fund is managed appropriately and within the constraints of our regulatory requirements to protect your investment. It would be unethical of LM to force a sale of assets, inevitably at a loss, to satisfy the small number of investors (Less than 5% of the fund) currently requiring a redemption. Selling assets which have not yet reached their final completion would likely mean a unit price impairment for all investors in the fund. Seeing that the fund asset requirements are met is prudent and offers the best outcome for all investors in the fund; preservation of capital as well as income generation. Slowing of redemption payments is a necessary measure that protects Fund performance and value for investors, and ensures there is adequate money allocated to continuing the development of fund assets, such as the Maddison project (www.maddisonestate.com.au) – the largest and most high profile asset in the fund, to the mutual benefit of all stakeholders in the fund.

Our inability to provide you with a fixed and firm date for repayment of your investment is understandably frustrating. However, as is normal with property asset based investments of this nature, liquidity and cash-flow management are components which are often variable and as such the fund must manage these variables appropriately and in the best interests of investors. The Fund is now moving into a more liquid position as cash variables in the form of loan repayments are realised. New investor inflows will always remain a variable; however our portfolio management model forecasts actual loan repayments and capital from the sale of assets increasing significantly from the middle of this year and as such we expect the MPF liquidity to be returning normality by the middle to end of 2013. We are aware that many investors have an immediate need for cash, and we are actively pursuing initiatives on several fronts which, should they come to fruition, will see the Fund make a considerable catch up on redemptions around the middle of this year. We will keep you informed as to our progress.

Once again, we apologise for the delay and hope that you understand we have a due process to adhere to and must ensure that all investors and 100% of your capital in the fund is protected.

Yours faithfully

The Directors

Dear David,

With reference to my email of the 15th November 2013, we would appreciate if you reply to our questions below since we are being bombarded with unhappy clients who are desperate for answers.

Another questions which we would like clarification on is regarding those investors in the LM MPF whose investment matured months before the voluntary administration 19th March 2013 was announced. The "Quarantined Monies" which is being mentioned in Simon Vertullo's affidavit are taking into consideration these type of investors?

We would appreciate your prompt reply.

Thanking you in anticipation

Dear David,

Thank you for your reply.

In my email of the 8th November 2013 I made reference to two letters, one dated Aug 2012 and the other one of Feb 2013. Which other letter are you referring to so I will be able to send you a copy of.

We also have communication via email from LMIM assuring us that the LM MPF is sound and stable and the liquidity problems that the fund was encountering were due to the strength of the currency and less inflows.

We are aware that a compensation fund exists in Australia which will pay in case that an Australian Regulated Company such as LMIM will be in default. Are you aware if the Australian Regulator is considering to compensate investors who were mislead by LMIM Directors?

I have also prepared a formal complaint to be sent to the ASIC, could you please provide me with a contact name and possibly his/her email address .

Many thanks

His question is simple, since his investment in the LM MPF matured in August 2012, seven months before LMIM filed for voluntary liquidation, are such clients going to be paid first from the recovery amounts, or all clients are going to be treated the same?

Dear Ms Falzon
Thank you very much for your assistance.
I really did not understand which letter is requested by David from your end.
Please inform Mr David James of KordaMentha that since LM are still in business my funds should be returned back as soon as possible because they have matured in August 2012. Allthough this was explained in your e-mail, I still understand that I cannot wait for such proceedings which may take years to be finalized and I cannot be treated as per other investors which had not matured. My investment matured and LM have gone out of their agreement. Hedging was not our agreement and responsabily. They have promised return of capital and accrued interest and neither of them have been actioned by themselves. So Mr David James should again be noted by this e-mail.
Your co-operation and assistance is appreciated.

As per Mr. David James email, the letters which we have provided them are going to forward them to the Australian Regulator for investigation. The Australian Regulator already proceeded with legal action at the Australian Court, whereby the court ordered for the freezing of Peter Drake Assets and Passport.
We have also prepared a Complaint letter on behalf of Maltese Investors and was sent to the Australian Regulator for guidance.
This week KordaMentha filed an Affidavit at the Australian Court for the winding up of the fund and to proceed with civil action against various parties, such as LMIM Directors, Auditors, Valuers of the Fund.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund

Dear David,

Thanks for your email.

On the 21st of November 2013 we have filed a formal complaint with the Australian Securities & Investments Commission addressed to Dr. Hugh Copley – Litigation Counsel, we have also attached copies of the letters issued by LM Investment Management Limited put investors mind at rest that their investment has remained at 100% of its capital value and continues to accrue income at the current rate of return (we provided you with such copies). If you require Dr. Hugh Copley's contact details we can provide them to you.

We would appreciate KordaMentha's assistance whereby KordaMentha will also make pressure with the regulator that our clients who invested in the LM Managed Performance Fund were mislead and let to believe that the LM MPF is financial sound when LMIM directors (the previous trustees of the LM MPF) were aware of the financial position of the said fund. As you may agree LMIM's communication was misleading. LMIM had a key role in promoting and managing the LM MPF and LMIM may be liable for client losses. There appears to be evidence of possible dishonesty, breach of trust and mismanagement by CEO of LMIM.

From the information which has been emerging from KM updates, after reviewing the loan books and the accounts, is KordaMentha in a position to determine when such problems started emerging? This is a very important piece of the puzzle.

We are aware that the LM MPF is an unregulated Fund, but LMIM was regulated by the ASIC, the communication sent to IFA and to our clients was issued by LMIM therefore LMIM directors where misleading investors to keep on collecting funds when they were aware that the fund is facing financial problems therefore we believe that LMIM are liable for losses in many cases. When one takes into consideration that LMIM, as the fund trustees of the LM MPF approved payments to LMIM entities and Peter Drake personally, LMIM should be responsible for such action and that is why we believe that the Australian Compensation Fund should compensate investors who invested in the LM MPF because LMIM were responsible for such action.

The following is how the UK Compensation Scheme works.

The UK Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) is a fund of last resort which deals with claims for compensation against UK firms that are no longer trading, and cannot honour their own claims. Case which is currently before the FSCS is that a UK company, regulated by the UK Regulator (FCA) was the Main Distributor of a Luxembourg Product which was unregulated. The UK Company had a key role in promoting the product and responsible for the financial promotions and communication to investors and IFA. At the moment the FSCS is investigating and establishing the extent of liability the UK Company has towards investors.

The above is very similar to LMIM and the LM MPF, therefore we would appreciate your assistance to investigate the possibility of LM MPF investors putting a claim against LMIM.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Regards

The previous attached letters are sufficient. I read a line in your email wrong, apologies. Other information may be attached with your letter to ASIC. All ASIC correspondence should be directed to them in accordance with the details on their website. We do not have a specific contact.

I am unaware of the compensation fund you are referring to. Please provide further information so I can assist. Please also remember that the MPF was an unregistered fund.

The Quarantined Funds mentioned in Mr Vertullo's affidavit is in relation to potential investors who transferred money to LMIM, but not applications, around the time of Administration, i.e. their application was incomplete and units were not issued. All these parties have been contacted by the Trustees regarding their deposits.

Dear David,

With reference to my email of the 15th November 2013, we would appreciate if you reply to our questions below since we are being bombarded with unhappy clients who are desperate for answers.

Another questions which we would like clarification on is regarding those investors in the LM MPF whose investment matured months before the voluntary administration 19th March 2013 was announced. The "Quarantined Monies" which is being mentioned in Simon Vertullo's affidavit are taking into consideration these type of investors?

We would appreciate your prompt reply.

Dear David,

Thank you for your reply.

In my email of the 8th November 2013 I made reference to two letters, one dated Aug 2012 and the other one of Feb 2013. Which other letter are you referring to so I will be able to send you a copy of.

We also have communication via email from LMIM assuring us that the LM MPF is sound and stable and the liquidity problems that the fund was encountering were due to the strength of the currency and less inflows.

We are aware that a compensation fund exists in Australia which will pay in case that an Australian Regulated Company such as LMIM will be in default. Are you aware if the Australian Regulator is considering to compensate investors who were mislead by LMIM Directors?

I have also prepared a formal complaint to be sent to the ASIC, could you please provide me with a contact name and possibly his/her email address .

Many thanks

Subject: LM Managed Performance Fund

Dear Mr. Park,

We are a Maltese IFA who promoted the LMIM products in Malta namely the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund.

Mr. Charles Borg is one of those investors who used our services and invested the sum of EUR5,000 in the LM Managed Performance Fund for a 2Y term (copy of contract note attached) . The investment matured on 20th August 2012 which is seven months prior the LMIM filed for voluntary administration.

In August 2012, the Directors of LMIM issued the attached letter regarding the delay on the regular income distribution payment of the said Fund and the reasons set in this letter is that the directors are managing higher than normal currency volatility with the fund but they assured us and our investors that "it is important to note that whilst pending payment your investment has remained at 100% of its capital value and continues to accrue income at the current rate of return" .

On 12th February 2013, just a month prior to the filling of the voluntary administration by LM directors, another letter was issued to us and to our investors putting their mind at rest that their original capital remains at 100% and that the investment will continue to accrue interest at the current rate of return up until the point of redemption.

This is totally misleading and LMIM directors are fully responsible of disclosing such misleading information to IFA and to investors when they were fully aware about the financial problems that the fund is facing.

As per Mr. Borg's instructions, I am forwarding you his email to guide us accordingly and what actions can be taken against LMIM directors re the misleading information which was communicated to our investors.

We would appreciate if you can update us if KordaMentha will be taking legal action against the responsible parties such as directors, Auditors etc.

I am also copying Mr. Borg in the email.

We appreciate your prompt reply,

Regards

Dear Ms Loraine

Kindly note that I am very surprised and frustrated with LM. I am not expecting replies now but my money back. I am sorry to speak like that but I am full of anger how I have been promised and than betrayed for which have been promised. My investment had matured before LM financial crises in such product and LM are still running their business. So you are kindly requested to pass my messages to LM so thst they refund my money back. They have promised my capital and interest due their excuse of exchange rate / hedging of AUD/EUR. This excuse was their business but my investment had matured before such excuses and promises which were replaced by frozining my money.
So please pass on my complain to LM to send my money back.

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Dear Sir - LMinvestor-Kordamentha

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Funds which were MATURED IN AUGUST 2012.
Please be advised that LM have promised me by two letters in August 2012 that my funds will be paid back together with the accrued interest. But unfortunately they have kept my money without my concent and they never gave me back my funds together with the accrued interest since year 2012 till todate. So I understand that my money were kept by LM without my authority and I feel that I have been betrayed because these funds were invested for TWO YEARS ONLY.

I am also surprised why Kordamentha did not reply to the TWO E-MAILS sent by MFSP in Malta namely Ms Falzon. She have sent you another e-mail on the 17th October2016 sending you also copy of these two e-mails in which I was copied but unfortunately we both did not receive any kind of reply.

I hope that this time your earliest co-operation will be effected without further delay.

Thanking for your assistance.

Best regards
Charles Borg

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.
As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.
My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.
I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards
Charles Borg

Good morning,

As per your confirmation below, I have the following questions.

Being that LM Investment Management Ltd is the responsible entity of the LM Managed Performance Fund and is licensed by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission ("ASIC). If it is found in breach of its obligations by the Australian Courts, and not managing the funds in the best interest. Investors do not have any remedy?

We appreciate your assistance in this because we are familiar with European Law as I mentioned in my email of the 24th May 2016, stating the following:

"In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person"

To give you an example, if MFSP Financial which is a regulated company (like LMIM) has number of claims on an investment which is not regulated (like LM MPF) and MFSP is not in a position to settle claims because it is insolvent, investors can submit claim before the Financial Services Compensation Scheme and are subject to a maximum compensation of €20,000.

We are pretty sure that under the Australian Financial Services Compensation Rules a form of compensation exists.

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Dear Lorraine,

I apologise for the delay in response to your email.

I confirm that we are not aware of any Australian regulator compensation scheme which is available to the unitholders of the Managed Performance Fund.

The Trustee will advise unitholders if it becomes aware of any such scheme.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Dear Charles

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Kind regards

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Please refer to that attached correspondence to Loraine.

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Lorraine,

I apologise for the delay in response to your email.

I confirm that we are not aware of any Australian regulator compensation scheme which is available to the unitholders of the Managed Performance Fund.

The Trustee will advise unitholders if it becomes aware of any such scheme.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK

Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir/Madam - KordaMentha

Further to your e-mail sent to me today.

Kindly note that my funds matured in August 2012 that means before LM were insolvent or bankrupt. LM kept my money without my authority after the maturity of my funds which in my opinion is against legality. So my case is completely different from other investors.
After my funds have matured, LM have written to me two letters, promising me in paying the full capital together with the accrued interest. LM kept my money without my authority. So my case is completely different from other investors.
I have been waiting for my money over four years now. I hope that my case is considered and studied by the authorized responsible persons as soon as possible.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Best Regards
Charles Borg

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Best Regards

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Good afternoon,

All European Countries do have a compensation scheme in place as I explained below. Therefore I cannot understand how Australia do not have a similar scheme in place that kicks in when a licence holder or a regulated entity such as LMIM becomes insolvent and therefore cannot pay claimants, in this case investors in the LM MPF.

All investors in the LM MPF should keep LM Investment Management Limited responsible for any loss incurred by them because of LMIM business decisions which were not in the best interest of investors, they were responsible to manage the client funds diligent and according to the product memorandum. We all know that this was not the case.

As things are emerging in your reports it shows that there are huge losses on client funds, a possibility of 5% recovery if not less.

- who is going to be kept responsible for such mismanagement?
- How the Auditors did not notice such a huge discrepancy in the NAV of the fund?
- The property valuers are being questioned in court? According to the LM MPF Memorandum it stated that the valuer must have appropriate professional indemnity insurance. Did KordaMentha checked if this was in place at the time of your appointment, and if the property valuer is/are found by the Australian court liable for part of the loss the damages incurred, the insurance will pay?
- Are these points being discussed in court?
- Who is representing the investors interest in court?
- LMIM was regulated by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission. The ASIC has responsibility for market integrity and consumer protection. LMIM should have had in place an indemnity insurance?
- Is the ASIC being kept abreast with the court hearings and KordaMentha updates?

MFSP's clients are very concerned with the probability negative outcome of their investment, therefore we appreciate that you get in touch with the Australian Regulator and explore any possibilities there are if LMIM is found before the Australian Courts in breach of their regulatory obligations. Otherwise you may introduce us to the person at the ASIC who is involved in the LMIM.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good morning,

As per your confirmation below, I have the following questions.

Being that LM Investment Management Ltd is the responsible entity of the LM Managed Performance Fund and is licensed by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission ("ASIC). If it is found in breach of its obligations by the Australian Courts, and not managing the funds in the best interest. Investors do not have any remedy?

We appreciate your assistance in this because we are familiar with European Law as I mentioned in my email of the 24th May 2016, stating the following:

"In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person"

To give you an example, if MFSP Financial which is a regulated company (like LMIM) has number of claims on an investment which is not regulated (like LM MPF) and MFSP is not in a position to settle claims because it is insolvent, investors can submit claim before the Financial Services Compensation Scheme and are subject to a maximum compensation of €20,000.

We are pretty sure that under the Australian Financial Services Compensation Rules a form of compensation exists.

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Dear Lorraine,

I apologise for the delay in response to your email.

I confirm that we are not aware of any Australian regulator compensation scheme which is available to the unitholders of the Managed Performance Fund.

The Trustee will advise unitholders if it becomes aware of any such scheme.

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Charles,

Thank you for your email.

As noted previously, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. This includes but is not limited to investments that matured prior to the closure of the fund. I note that there are a number of unitholders in the same or similar situation.

As such we are unable to process any distributions to unitholders until the completion of the winding up.

The Trustee will advise if and when it is in a positon to make a distribution.

Regards,

Kindly note that my funds matured in August 2012 that means before LM were insolvent or bankrupt. LM kept my money without my authority after the maturity of my funds which in my opinion is against legality. So my case is completely different from other investors.
After my funds have matured, LM have written to me two letters, promising me in paying the full capital together with the accrued interest. LM kept my money without my authority. So my case is completely different from other investors.
I have been waiting for my money over four years now. I hope that my case is considered and studied by the authorized responsible persons as soon as possible.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Charles

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

Regards

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

As such we are unable to process any distributions to unitholders until the completion of the winding up.

The Trustee will advise if and when it is in a positon to make a distribution.

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM

Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam KordaMentha

Please be advised that when I have invested in LM, I have agreed with LM that such funds were being invested for TWO YEARS ONLY. Such funds were matured and LM were not authorized to keep my funds in their hands. They did not have any right to keep my funds in their hands. I repeat my words that this is completely ILLEGAL and their prospectus doesn't say to do so.

I hope that the responsible people consider again my personal case more fundamentally because I am really desperate and frustrated with such attitude being betrayed by LM in such incredible manner.
I think that MFSP whom I have contacted for this investment in Malta have more reasons and understandings how I have been faced in this problem whom they are always copied with my correspondence with you.
The Truth is that such betrayal should not have existed.

Thanking you as usual for your co-operation and assistance.

Regards
Charles Borg

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam - KordaMentha

Reference is being made to my last e-mail sent to you on 23 November 2016 for which till to-date, I did not receive any kind of reply.

Appreciate if you may send me any information with regards to my funds for which I have been waiting over four years now.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Kind regards

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Please refer to that attached correspondence to Loraine.

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

Dear Charles

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Kind regards

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed

Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed

Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Please be advised that when I have invested in LM, I have agreed with LM that such funds were being invested for TWO YEARS ONLY. Such funds were matured and LM were not authorized to keep my funds in their hands. They did not have any right to keep my funds in their hands. I repeat my words that this is completely ILLEGAL and their prospectus doesn't say to do so.

I hope that the responsible people consider again my personal case more fundamentally because I am really desperate and frustrated with such attitude being betrayed by LM in such incredible manner.
I think that MFSP whom I have contacted for this investment in Malta have more reasons and understandings how I have been faced in this problem whom they are always copied with my correspondence with you.
The Truth is that such betrayal should not have existed.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

As noted previously, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. This includes but is not limited to investments that matured prior to the closure of the fund. I note that there are a number of unitholders in the same or similar situation.

As such we are unable to process any distributions to unitholders until the completion of the winding up.

The Trustee will advise if and when it is in a positon to make a distribution.

Dear Charles

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Kind regards

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Best Regards

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear KordaMentha

Thank you for your e-mail of today.
I still cannot understand why KordaMentha is treating all investors as their fund matured or not on the same level. Kindly note that matured funds before LM insolvency should have been refunded and not retained by LM without the authority of the investor.

LM have kept my matured money without my authority and this was against of their prospectus. So my money should be refunded IN FULL.

I hope that my case should be treated more fundamentally and according to legality.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

As such we are unable to process any distributions to unitholders until the completion of the winding up.

The Trustee will advise if and when it is in a positon to make a distribution.

Dear Sir / Madam - KordaMentha

Reference is being made to my last e-mail sent to you on 23 November 2016 for which till to-date, I did not receive any kind of reply.

Appreciate if you may send me any information with regards to my funds for which I have been waiting over four years now.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Kind regards

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed

Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed

Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Dear KordaMentha

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.
I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.
I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Kind Regards,

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

As previously advised the Trustee is not in a position to make any distribution in respect to your investment, regardless of whether the investment matured prior to the closure of the Fund.

To prevent further lengthy email communication, it may be easier to arrange a time for a telephone call to discuss your individual investment. If you would like to arrange a call, please nominate 2-3 dates and times (during Australian business hours) which are suitable to you and we will provide you with a phone number.

Dear KordaMentha

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.
I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.
I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thanking you in advance for your earliest co-operation and assistance.

I still cannot understand why KordaMentha is treating all investors as their fund matured or not on the same level. Kindly note that matured funds before LM insolvency should have been refunded and not retained by LM without the authority of the investor.

LM have kept my matured money without my authority and this was against of their prospectus. So my money should be refunded IN FULL.

I hope that my case should be treated more fundamentally and according to legality.

Such funds were matured and LM were not authorized to keep my funds in their hands. They did not have any right to keep my funds in their hands. I repeat my words that this is completely ILLEGAL and their prospectus doesn't say to do so.

I hope that the responsible people consider again my personal case more fundamentally because I am really desperate and frustrated with such attitude being betrayed by LM in such incredible manner.

I think that MFSP whom I have contacted for this investment in Malta have more reasons and understandings how I have been faced in this problem whom they are always copied with my correspondence with you.

The Truth is that such betrayal should not have existed.

Thanking you as usual for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

As noted previously, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. This includes but is not limited to investments that matured prior to the closure of the fund. I note that there are a number of unitholders in the same or similar situation.

As such we are unable to process any distributions to unitholders until the completion of the winding up.

The Trustee will advise if and when it is in a positon to make a distribution.

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..
MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thanking you in advance for your earliest co-operation and assistance.

Charles Borg

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

Dear Charles,

Thank you for your email.

As noted previously, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. This includes but is not limited to investments that matured prior to the closure of the fund. I note that there are a number of unitholders in the same or similar situation.

As such we are unable to process any distributions to unitholders until the completion of the winding up.

The Trustee will advise if and when it is in a positon to make a distribution.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Subject: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my situation more carefully.

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thanking you in advance for your earliest co-operation and assistance.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

Thank you for your email.

As noted previously, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. This includes but is not limited to investments that matured prior to the closure of the fund. I note that there are a number of unitholders in the same or similar situation.

As such we are unable to process any distributions to unitholders until the completion of the winding up.

The Trustee will advise if and when it is in a positon to make a distribution.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my situation more carefully.

Dear KordaMentha

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thanking you in advance for your earliest co-operation and assistance.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Dear Lorraine,

I apologise for the delay in response to your email.

I confirm that we are not aware of any Australian regulator compensation scheme which is available to the unitholders of the Managed Performance Fund.

The Trustee will advise unitholders if it becomes aware of any such scheme.

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my situation more carefully.

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thanking you in advance for your earliest co-operation and assistance.

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Kind Regards,

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income

Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my situation more carefully.

Dear KordaMentha

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thanking you in advance for your earliest co-operation and assistance.

LM have kept my matured money without my authority and this was against of their prospectus. So my money should be refunded IN FULL.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

Dear Sir / Madam - KordaMentha

Reference is being made to my last e-mail sent to you on 23 November 2016 for which till to-date, I did not receive any kind of reply.

Appreciate if you may send me any information with regards to my funds for which I have been waiting over four years now.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Dear Charles

Please refer to that attached correspondence to Loraine.

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear KordaMentha

As you are aware a copy of the original application have been sent to you as requested for further investigation by MFSP namely Ms Lorainne Falzon.
I hope to receive all my money back because LM have kept my money after maturity without my authority. My funds matured in August 2012 and these funds should have been refunded to me in August 2012.
As you know I am still without my money back, because LM kept my money against their prospectus which is illegal.
I expect my money to be refunded without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my situation more carefully.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thanking you in advance for your earliest co-operation and assistance.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

Dear Charles,

Thank you for your email.

As noted previously, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. This includes but is not limited to investments that matured prior to the closure of the fund. I note that there are a number of unitholders in the same or similar situation.

As such we are unable to process any distributions to unitholders until the completion of the winding up.

The Trustee will advise if and when it is in a positon to make a distribution.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Kind Regards,

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Dear KordaMentha

As you are aware a copy of the original application have been sent to you as requested for further investigation by MFSP namely Ms Lorainne Falzon.
I hope to receive all my money back because LM have kept my money after maturity without my authority.
My funds matured in August 2012 and these funds should have been refunded to me in August 2012.
As you know I am still without my money back, because LM kept my money against their prospectus which is illegal.
I expect my money to be refunded without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

As previously advised the Trustee is not in a position to make any distribution in respect to your investment, regardless of whether the investment matured prior to the closure of the Fund.

To prevent further lengthy email communication, it may be easier to arrange a time for a telephone call to discuss your individual investment. If you would like to arrange a call, please nominate 2-3 dates and times (during Australian business hours) which are suitable to you and we will provide you with a phone number.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

Dear Sir / Madam - KordaMentha

Reference is being made to my last e-mail sent to you on 23 November 2016 for which till to-date, I did not receive any kind of reply.

Appreciate if you may send me any information with regards to my funds for which I have been waiting over four years now.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Dear Charles

Please refer to that attached correspondence to Loraine.

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear KordaMentha

Futher tp my last e-mail sent to you on Monday 17th April 201.
As you are aware a copy of the original application was sent to you as requested for further investigation.
Since LM have kept my money after they have been matured without my authority and against their prospectus, I am still expecting my full amount of money back with further delay.
I hope that KordaMentha consider my request as soon as possible.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation and assistance.

As you are aware a copy of the original application have been sent to you as requested for further investigation by MFSP namely Ms Lorainne Falzon.

I hope to receive all my money back because LM have kept my money after maturity without my authority. My funds matured in August 2012 and these funds should have been refunded to me in August 2012.

As you know I am still without my money back, because LM kept my money against their prospectus which is illegal.

I expect my money to be refunded without further delay.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

As noted previously, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. This includes but is not limited to investments that matured prior to the closure of the fund. I note that there are a number of unitholders in the same or similar situation.

As such we are unable to process any distributions to unitholders until the completion of the winding up.

The Trustee will advise if and when it is in a positon to make a distribution.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Subject: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Regards,

KordaMentha

Dear KordaMentha

Futher tp my last e-mail sent to you on Monday 17th April 201.
As you are aware a copy of the original application was sent to you as requested for further investigation.
Since LM have kept my money after they have been matured without my authority and against their prospectus, I am still expecting my full amount of money back with further delay.
I hope that KordaMentha consider my request as soon as possible.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear KordaMentha

As you are aware a copy of the original application have been sent to you as requested for further investigation by MFSP namely Ms Lorainne Falzon.

I hope to receive all my money back because LM have kept my money after maturity without my authority. My funds matured in August 2012 and these funds should have been refunded to me in August 2012.

As you know I am still without my money back, because LM kept my money against their prospectus which is illegal.

I expect my money to be refunded without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my situation more carefully.

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Lorraine,

I apologise for the delay in response to your email.

I confirm that we are not aware of any Australian regulator compensation scheme which is available to the unitholders of the Managed Performance Fund.

The Trustee will advise unitholders if it becomes aware of any such scheme.

Regards,

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Kind Regards,

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

about LM

specialist australian income funds manager

LM Investment Management Ltd ("LM", "the Manager") is a privately owned, specialist Australian income funds manager and responsible entity which has operated within Australia's business and property sectors since 1998. During this time, LM has developed significant property expertise through the management of its prime funds, which provide cash, income and Shariah compliant options.

LM operates internationally from its offices on the Gold Coast and Sydney Australia, in Hong Kong, Auckland, London, Dubai and Tokyo. Since inception, LM has carefully developed diversity in its distribution program. LM distributes its products through an international network of licensed financial advisers, intermediaries, wholesale platforms, private banks, superannuation funds, corporate and institutional investment consultants spanning some 40 countries.

Specialising in professional and responsive financial services, LM is a highly regarded lending institution within Australia. LM enjoys an established presence in the financial services markets throughout Australia, Hong Kong, Asia, the Middle East, the United Kingdom, Europe, North and South Africa and New Zealand.

Recognised as a specialist income funds manager, LM's income funds are available for Australian dollar and international currency investment, and include the LM Australian Income Fund – Currency Protected, the LM Cash Performance Fund, LM Protected Cash Performance Fund, the LM Managed Performance Fund and the LM Australian Alif Fund.

LM is licensed with the Australian Securities and Investments Commission ("ASIC") as a Responsible Entity and Australian Financial Services Licensee.

Management Principles

The Manager's corporate vision is to be recognised as a leading, innovative and prudential funds manager. The management team has a common understanding of business principles to ensure the vision is upheld. These principles include:-

- delivering a high level of service with clear communication and genuine empathy for clients;
- offering innovative and qualitative investment and lending products; and
- using a research driven approach to anticipate market changes and seek new opportunities.

The Manager's commitment to offering clients a competitive advantage with service is demonstrated by its use of information technology delivering 24 hour access to online investment reporting.

Key Personnel

The Directors of LM collectively offer considerable years of experience and specialist knowledge from the finance, insurance, legal and property sectors. The Manager also carries a vast depth of professional property and business related experience across all business units.

LM's personnel are strategic thinkers with the foresight to identify quality investment opportunities, while keeping their fingers on the pulse of Australia's property and finance markets. The Manager blends this foresight with a sound investment philosophy to seek optimum results for investors.

The Directors encourage the key decision makers at LM Investment Management Ltd to adopt a hands on approach when seeking new investment opportunities and anticipating market changes.

Financial intermediaries and investors have direct access to a staff who provide prompt professional assistance. LM's relationships are built on honest and open communication and a genuine appreciation of its clients' needs.

Corporate Governance

The Board of LM Investment Management Ltd generally meets quarterly to discuss the strategic direction of LM and the monitoring of its funds. LM has a strong commitment to corporate governance, compliance and risk management. To ensure ultimate protection of investor funds, LM has a committee based structure for all major decision making processes.

Executives and a representative of the Board generally meet weekly to discuss issues pertinent to the Manager and its funds. Each executive is responsible to the Board for the operation of their own business unit. The Funds Management Committee meets monthly to analyse and review performance of the funds. The Compliance Committee generally meets 3 times a year to monitor and review compliance systems and processes to ensure that they are in accordance with the Compliance Program and registered funds' compliance plans.

LM follows a disciplined research driven approach to investment. LM's Property Research and Analysis Committee ("PRAC"), specifically targets locations offering property growth opportunities and property sectors which are expected to perform.

The Board and management also have access to a range of independent and professional advisers to assist on particular technical issues.

the directors

chairman and chief executive officer

Peter founded LM in 1998, after 20 years' experience in Australia's financial services and life insurance sectors. As 100 per cent shareholder and CEO, Peter is principally responsible for the strategic vision, direction and structured growth of LM. Since its inception, Peter has been actively involved with LM's expansion to seven international offices, servicing some 40 countries. Peter is particularly active in the design and marketing of LM's Australian dollar and currency hedged investment products. Working closely with LM's Portfolio Manager to manage the growth of funds under management, Peter also plays an integral role in LM's Funds Management Committee. With significant experience in direct property and commercial property developments across Australia, Peter is also a member of LM's Credit/Investment Committee, responsible for approving and setting the conditions of loans and assets within the funds. Peter's vision of an innovative and prudential funds manager holds true as LM continues its dynamic growth in Australia's financial services, business and property sectors.

executive director

Lisa joined LM in 1998 and was appointed Executive Director in September 2003. Lisa is principally responsible for all accounting functions of both LM Investment Management Ltd and its registered schemes. Lisa works closely with LM's Portfolio Manager to manage the growth of funds under management. Lisa plays an integral role in LM's Funds Management Committee and Credit/Investment Committee. With more than 20 years experience in the banking and financial planning industry, including financial accounting and funds management, Lisa makes a valuable contribution to LM's ongoing management of investment funds and financial services. Lisa holds a Bachelor of Business from Griffith University.

eghard van der hoven
executive director, portfolio manager

In 2003, Eghard joined LM Investment Management Ltd as Portfolio Manager, responsible for the monitoring and ongoing performance of LM's various funds. As Executive Director, Eghard's sound understanding of the investment industry spanning almost 20 years includes extensive experience in stock broking, auditing, investment analysis, business strategy and policy planning. As the Chair of LM's Funds Management Committee, Eghard is responsible for joint decisions in relation to the asset allocation, geographic spread allocation, cash flow, delivery rate forecasting and budgeting of LM's funds. Eghard also sits on the Credit/Investment Committee and the Arrears Management Committee. He holds a Master of Commerce, majoring in Economics, and a Bachelor of Commerce (Hons) in Economics, from University of Pretoria, South Africa.

executive director, general manager marketing and distribution/product

Francene commenced with LM Investment Management Ltd in 1999, following a 20 year career in the commercial, legal and securities sectors. Prior to joining LM, Francene held managerial positions focused on the areas of commercial mortgages, conveyancing and the property sector. Specific experience in mortgage securities and the marketing of financial products provided a solid background for Francene to successfully undertake her role within LM. As Executive Director, Francene is primarily responsible for the marketing and expansion of distribution of LM's products on a wholesale and retail basis, throughout Australia and international markets. Francene takes an active role in the direction of all client communication, company communication and service. Francene is also a member of the Property Research and Analysis Committee, Funds Management Committee, Credit/Investment Committee and Arrears Committee.

executive director, head of lending

In 2001, Simon immigrated to Australia with his family after a 20 year career in trading and broking financial derivatives in London's money markets. Having established LM's Sydney office that year, Simon has since overseen its growth whilst managing LM's business development in the southern states of Australia. As Head of Lending, Simon travels throughout Australia to source and assess new lending opportunities for LM. As Executive Director, Simon's extensive 'on the ground' knowledge of Australia's many property markets provides valuable insight to LM's board, and statistical knowledge to LM's Property Research and Analysis Committee. Simon is a member of the Board of Directors, Credit/Investment Committee, Funds Management Committee and Property Research and Analysis Committee.

john o'sullivan
non-executive director

John brings to LM over 20 years experience in the funds management and investment services sectors of New Zealand, Europe, Asia and Australia. John's previous executive roles include Chief Executive Officer and Partner of a large advisory business in New Zealand, General Manager of Oceanic Life (New Zealand), Director of Oceanic Funds Management (Australia) and New Zealand Manager of Sun Alliance Asset Management when it purchased Oceanic. External to LM, John is currently Managing Director of his own New Zealand based distribution company, O'Sullivan Capital.

Currencies Available	Investment may be arranged for most currencies which include those listed below:- ▶ USD ▶ JPY ▶ SGD ▶ CHF ▶ THB ▶ GBP ▶ CAD ▶ EUR ▶ HKD ▶ AED ▶ SEK ▶ ZAR ▶ TRY ▶ NZD ▶ AUD For clarification on hedging a specific currency please contact the Manager. An investment in AUD is not hedged.
Currency Hedge	Non-Australian dollar investments are hedged in the respective currency against Australian dollar currency movements. The Fund hedges non-Australian dollar investments through the use of Forward Foreign Exchange Contracts ("FFEC").
Investment Terms	Personal Investors and Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors can choose the following investment terms:- ▶ 12months; ▶ 24 months; ▶ 36 months; and ▶ Savings Plan Arrangements may be made with the Manager for different investment terms.
Distribution Rates	Personal Investors	Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors
	Investors can obtain details of the most recent distribution rates from their adviser or from the office of the Manager by telephoning +617 5584 4500. Distribution rates may vary at any time.	Interest distribution rates are variable and will depend on the income earned and expenses paid by the Fund from time to time. The distributions will be reflected in the growth of the unit price for the investment.
Reinvestment of Distribution	Personal Investors	Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors
	Interest distributions are automatically reinvested. Investors may elect to have distributions paid to the account nominated on the Application Form. For further details refer to the paragraph headed "Reinvestment of Distributions for Personal Investors" on page 15 of this Information Memorandum. Non-AUD distributions paid during an investment term will not be hedged Refer to the paragraph headed "Non-AUD Unhedged Quarterly/ Monthly Distributions Option" on page 15 of this Information Memorandum for full details.	Interest distributions are calculated daily and reflected in the daily unit price for the investment. Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors can elect to have the number of units equivalent to the interest distribution redeemed monthly or quarterly and paid to their nominated bank account. (Refer to page 17 of this Information Memorandum the paragraph headed "Interest Distributions for Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors" for further details).

[1] Conditions apply please refer to the "How to Invest" page of this Information Memorandum for further details.

Automatic Rollover	Personal Investors	Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors.
	If no maturity instructions are provided at the time of investment or at least 90 days prior to the maturity date, the following default process will apply:- ▶ Non-AUD Investments - At the end of the investment term the investors investment (and interest distribution (unless the investor elects to have the interest distribution paid to the account nominated on the Application Form)) is automatically reinvested in the originally nominated currency for further 3 month investment terms until either the investor notifies the Manager to reinvest the investment for a different investment term, or a withdrawal notice is received by the Manager within the prescribed withdrawal notice period. ▶ AUD Investments - At the end of the investment term an AUD investment is automatically reinvested for further terms of the same length until either the investor notifies the Manager to reinvest the investment for a different investment term or a withdrawal notice is received by the Manager within the prescribed withdrawal notice period. Prior to rollover of the investment Investors should consider the current Information Memorandum and consult their adviser to ensure they have the most recent distribution rates. Most recent distribution rates are available from the Manager by telephoning +617 5584 4500 or by visiting the Manager's website at www.LMaustralia.com.	If no maturity instructions are provided at the time of investment or at least 90 days prior to the last business day of the investment term the following default process will apply:- ▶ Non-AUD and AUD Investments - At the end of the investment term the investment is automatically reinvested in the originally nominated currency for further investment terms of the same length until either the investor notifies the Manager to reinvest the investment for a different investment term, or a withdrawal notice is received by the Manager within the prescribed withdrawal notice period.
Withdrawal Notice	For both Personal Investors and Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors the withdrawal notice must be received by the Manager at least 90 days prior to the maturity date of the investment term. Ordinarily AUD investment withdrawals are paid within 30 days after the maturity date and non-AUD investment withdrawals are paid within 5 business days after the maturity date. To protect all fund investments, payment of withdrawals is currently slowed and is being managed over longer timeframes, as determined necessary by the Manager. Please contact your financial adviser or the Manager for information regarding timeframes. For further details refer to the paragraph headed "Withdrawal Delays" on page 11 of this Information Memorandum.
Minimum Withdrawal	Personal Investors	Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors
	Multiples of AUD$5,000 or relevant currency equivalent	AUD$1,000 or relevant currency equivalent
Minimum Balance	Personal Investors	Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors
	AUD$5,000 or relevant currency equivalent	AUD$1,000 or relevant currency equivalent
Australian Taxation	If an investor is not an Australian resident for taxation purposes, Australian taxation rates will not apply, however withholding tax is deducted from distributions at a rate of 10%. Non resident investors may be entitled to claim a credit for withholding tax in their country of residence. Specific taxation advice should be obtained. Refer to paragraph headed "Non-Resident Investors" on page 27 of this Information Memorandum for further information.
Unit Pricing	The Fund issues units on application at a variable unit price calculated daily. Unit prices are issued in Australian dollars and presented to investors in the relevant currency equivalent of the Australian dollars. The daily unit price of each currency option and investment term is available from the Manager's website at www.LMaustralia.com. Refer to the paragraph headed "Unit Pricing" on page 13 of this Information Memorandum for further details.
Fees	No entry or exit fees are payable provided the investment is held for the full investment term. Please refer to the Fee Section of this Information Memorandum for complete details.

LM managed performance fund

Investment Objective

The investment objective for the Fund is to provide a steady income stream relevant to the risk return of the Fund. Non-Australian dollar investments in this Fund are hedged in the relevant currency against Australian dollar currency movements.

Benefits of Investing

- Medium to long term income;
- Competitive income rates;
- Choice of currencies with non-Australian currency hedged against movements in the Australian dollar;
- Choice of investment term;
- Funds management expertise - specialist Australian property expertise.

Who Can Invest in the Fund

The Fund allows for investment by:-

- Non-Australian Resident Investors and Australian Resident Investors can invest in the Fund directly as ("Personal Investors"). Australian resident investors must be "wholesale" or "sophisticated" investors. Refer to page 19 of this Information Memorandum titled "Australian Resident Investors" for further details.
- Operators of global platforms, global portfolio bonds, master trusts and wrap accounts and institutions ("Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors") investing the funds of their clients ("Indirect Investors").

Investment Terms

Personal Investors and Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors can select one or more of the investment terms below:-

- Fixed investment terms of 12 Months, 24 Months, 36 Months; or
- 12 Month Savings Plan which allows investors to:-
  - start their savings plan with a minimum investment equivalent to AUD$5,000[2] and ongoing regular monthly investments equivalent to AUD$5,000[2] or more for at least the first year;
  - regular investments to an AUD savings plan investment can be made by direct debit or credit card and for non-AUD investments regular investments must be made by telegraphic transfer;
  - has a minimum investment term of 12 months. To ensure that savings are maximised no withdrawals are allowed during the initial 12 months investment term;
  - allows up to 2 withdrawals annually from a 12 Month Saving Plan after the initial 12 month investment term.

Arrangements may be able to be made with the Manager for different investment terms.

Distribution Rates for Personal Investors

Distribution rates are variable, and will depend on income earned and expenses paid by the Fund from time to time, currency rates, commission payable to advisers, and other factors considered relevant by the Manager. Investors can obtain details of the most recent distribution rates from their adviser or from the office of the Manager by telephoning +617 5584 4500.

Distribution Rates for Global Platform/ Portfolio Bond Investors

Distribution rates are variable and will depend on income earned and expenses paid by the Fund from time to time. Any distributions will be reflected in the growth of the unit price for the investment.

Choice of Currency of Investment

Investment may be arranged for most currencies which include those listed below:-

▶ USD ▶ JPY ▶ SGD ▶ CHF ▶ THB ▶ GBP ▶ CAD ▶ EUR ▶ HKD ▶ AED ▶ SEK ▶ ZAR ▶ TRY ▶ NZD ▶ AUD

For clarification on hedging a specific currency please contact the Manager. An investment in AUD is not hedged.

Currency Hedge

The Fund hedges a non-Australian dollar investment through the use of Forward Foreign Exchange Contracts (FFEC). Each FFEC requires agreement between the user (the Fund) and the provider (financial institution) on the following:-

- currencies to be exchanged;
- the value of each of the currencies to be exchanged;
- the maturity date of the contract; and
- the rate at which the exchange between currencies will occur.

The forward rate is determined by the spot rate (current market rate) and the interest rates of the relevant currencies and will change as these variables alter.

On acceptance of investment funds and the completed Application Form, the relevant currency is converted at the prevailing spot market rate into Australian dollars and units in the Fund issued. The Fund simultaneously enters into a FFEC. The FFEC requires the Fund to deliver an amount of Australian dollars in exchange for an amount of the relevant foreign currency at a specific time in the future at a predetermined exchange rate (forward rate). At the end of the investment period the Fund converts the earnings of the investor into the relevant foreign currency at the forward foreign exchange rate.

Further details about Personal Investor Investments

Further details in relation to investments by Personal Investors including details on initial investment, reinvestment of distributions, automatic rollover, additional investments etc are outlined on page 15 of this Information Memorandum headed "Further Details about Investment by Personal Investors".

Further details about Global Platform/ Portfolio Bond Investor Investments

Further details in relation to investments by Global Platform/ Portfolio Bond Investors including details on initial investment, automatic rollover of investment, additional investments etc are outlined on page 17 of this Information Memorandum headed "Further Details about Investment by Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors".

[2] Or such lesser amount as determined by the Manager.

Withdrawal Notice Period

The withdrawal notice must be received by the Manager at least 90 days before the end of the investment term. Ordinarily AUD investment withdrawals are paid within 30 days after the maturity date and non-AUD investment withdrawals are paid within 5 business days after the maturity date. Withdrawal payments are made by direct credit to the investor's financial institution account. To protect all fund investments, payment of withdrawals is currently slowed and is being managed over longer timeframes, as determined necessary by the Manager. Please contact your financial adviser or the Manager for information regarding timeframes. For further details refer to the paragraph headed "Withdrawal Delays" on this page of this Information Memorandum.

If an investor requires withdrawal proceeds to be deposited to an account other than the account nominated on the Application Form please provide the bank account name and number. The Manager may require further documentary evidence.

Where a request for withdrawal is received on any day that is not a business day, the request is deemed to have been received on the next business day.

Withdrawal Delays

The prime objective of the Fund is to deliver income to investors whilst maintaining capital value of investment in the Fund. The priority is to protect all investors and all fund capital. In order to do this and to protect the Fund from volatility in external market conditions, from time to time it may be necessary to extend the timeframes for the payment of withdrawals or to suspend the payment of withdrawals.

Timeframes for withdrawal payments are currently slower than general, due to market conditions brought about by the global financial crisis. Please contact your financial adviser or the Manager for information regarding timeframes. In normal market conditions following receipt of correct withdrawal notice, AUD withdrawals would be paid within 30 days after the maturity date and non-AUD withdrawals would be paid within 5 business days after the maturity date.

Further information on the management mechanism of delaying or suspending withdrawals may be found in the paragraph headed "Liquidity Preservation Rules" on page 28 of this Information Memorandum.

the LM managed performance fund's australian investment assets

The Fund currently invests in:-

- Australian commercial loans;
- Australian direct property; and
- Australian cash at Australian banks.

The Manager is selective in its choice of assets for the LM Managed Performance Fund adhering to a rigorous due diligence process. In relation to commercial loan assets, the Fund's investment committee focuses on Australian locations offering property growth opportunities and property sectors which are expected to perform. Equally before disposing of assets, the Manager's investment committee follows a research driven approach to ensure that the disposal/sale is in the best interests of investors.

Fund Assets

The assets of the Fund as at 31 October 2009 totalled $133,408,140 and were made up as follows:-

Asset Allocation

 Historically cash levels in the Fund have ranged between 1.00% and 5.00%.*

Segregated Fund Assets

As Manager, LM's primary responsibility is to operate and manage its investments in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 (Act) and the Fund constitution, with a first and demonstrable priority to protect investors.

The assets of the Fund are totally separate and segregated by law from the assets of LM Investment Management Ltd. Investors, through their purchase of units in the unit trust structure of the Fund, own an interest in the underlying assets of the LM funds.

LM has an in-house custodial team, and as part of its custodial license holds the necessary financial, organisational and administrative resources to facilitate efficient and secure management of its fund assets.

LM adheres to legislative requirements to ensure that:-

- Fund assets are held securely for the Fund and investors in the funds;
- Fund assets are clearly identified and held separately from LM's assets and assets of any other fund; and
- safe keeping of the investment documents (such as title deeds) is secure.

Investment Approach

LM's investment approach for the Fund is to target opportunities arising out of its daily business as an Australian funds management company. The Manager employs alternative investment strategies and targets an expanded range of investment opportunities with no restrictions. All investment proposals are assessed by the Manager's investment committee based on its assessment of the expected risk adjusted return. The focus of the committee is to use its investment analysis and risk management skills to meet the performance objectives of the Fund.

Examples of types of investments the Fund may invest in are as follows:

- Commercial loans for the purchase and/or development of Australian real property;
- Investment in the Manager's registered managed investment funds including but not limited to the LM Australian Income Fund – Currency Protected and the LM Cash Performance Fund. Disclosure documents in relation to each of these funds are available from the Manager's website at www.LMaustralia.com. These documents provide detailed information about the structure, performance and risk of each of these funds;
- Though it has not to date, the Fund could invest in various property syndicates and direct property trusts which own and manage commercial properties;
- Funding secured by way of first and second ranking security behind other financiers including advances made by one of the Manager's funds; and
- Commercial loans to third parties approved by the Manager. The Fund has, and may continue to, make loans to the Manager in its own right (or to related parties including directors) provided they are secured and guaranteed and are on appropriate commercial arms length terms.

The Manager actively manages Fund assets to ensure that the optimum asset allocations are applied to the portfolio in accordance with the Fund's objective. The Manager follows a disciplined research driven approach to investing. This investment approach is also adhered to for all other funds of which LM Investment Management Ltd is the manager and/or responsible entity.

All decision making in relation to the assets of the Fund is handled through a collaborative discussion forum of committee structures, rather than resting with one person. Both the broad base of expertise involved in committee discussions together with the objectivity offered by voting members of the committees is designed for the ultimate protection of investor funds. The investment committee is integral to the risk management processes utilised by the Manager with respect to the selection of mortgage and property assets for the Fund. The investment committee calls for collaboration of a broad base of expertise from the property, finance, legal and accounting sectors when evaluating mortgage/property related assets for the Fund. The formal structure and collaborative decision making process provided by the investment committee ensures an informed assessment and objective decision regarding all Fund assets.

LM Property Research & Analysis Committee

The Manager's Property Research and Analysis Committee ("PRAC"), specifically targets locations offering growth opportunities and property sectors which are expected to perform. The Manager utilises the information provided by PRAC to review and assess its asset allocation strategy.

Property intelligence gathered by our Property Research and Analysis Committee assists in the evaluation of commercial lending opportunities for the LM Managed Performance Fund.

Updated Financial Information

The yearly financial report for the Fund is available by telephoning +617 5584 4500. Information relevant to the Fund that is not materially adverse that is subject to change from time to time (including information in relation to fund size and asset allocations contained in the Information Memorandum) will be updated by the Manager on its website and a paper copy of any updated information will be given to any person without charge on request.

A large international audit and accounting firm is the independent accountant and auditor for LM Managed Performance Fund. The international accounting firm has been engaged to audit the financial statements for the LM Managed Performance Fund as at 31 December annually. Audited financial statements will commence for the period ending 31 December 2009.

Broadly, the audit involves a thorough examination of the accounting systems, internal controls and related data. It is designed to align the audit process with the analysis of the real business risk of the Fund. Essentially, working within the framework of Australian and International Accounting Standards, the auditors must tailor overall assessment of the audit across all areas of risk, placing significant emphasis and focus on those risks which may have a significant impact on the financial reports.

The audit work performed is thorough and provides investors independent confirmation of the value of their investment.

Unit Pricing

The Fund issues units on application at a variable unit price calculated daily. Unit prices are issued in Australian dollars and presented to investors in the relevant currency equivalent of the Australian dollars. The daily unit price of each currency option and investment term is available from the Manager's website at www.LMaustralia.com.

The calculation of the issue price for units in the Fund (which is contained in the Fund's Constitution) allows for the following different unit issue prices:-

- Various sub-classes of "A" class units will be issued to Personal Investors. The issue price for each sub-class of "A" class unit will not reflect accrued but unpaid distributions.
- Various sub-classes of "B" class units will be issued to Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors. The issue price for each sub-class of "B" class units will reflect accrued but unpaid distributions payable to the unit holders in that sub-class, which means that the unit price for units held by Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors is likely to vary more than the unit price for "A" class units.

The unit price for "A" and "B" Class Units is determined each day and is calculated by dividing the value of the net assets of the Fund by the total number of units on issue that day (but not taking account of any accrued interest distributions when calculating the issue price for "A" class units, and taking account of relevant accrued interest distributions for "B" class units when calculating the issue price for "B" Class Units).

snapshot of the LM managed performance fund's current australian assets

Outlined below are further details in relation to the Fund's investments. This information is provided to investors of the LM Managed Performance Fund to ensure that investors have an overview of the Fund's current investments.

For updated information in relation to the Fund's asset allocation and performance please visit the Manager's website www.LMaustralia.com or telephone the Manager's office on +617 5584 4500.

Fund Assets

The assets of the Fund as at 31 October 2009 totalled $133,408,140 and were made up as follows:-

Asset Allocation

 Historically cash levels in the Fund have ranged between 1.00% and 5.00%.*

The Fund's Commercial Loans

Commercial loans include the range of secured commercial loans generally available to the Australian commercial property and development sectors. The loan portfolio comprises mortgages, including second ranking mortgages, over commercial, residential, retail, industrial and vacant land.

Set out below are further details in relation to the Fund's commercial loans.

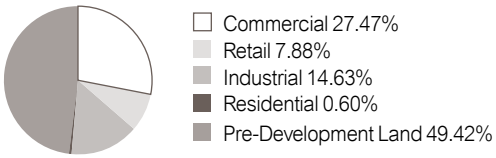
Commercial Loan Portfolio Details as at 31 October 2009

Total amount of mortgage securities	$126,064,731
Number of mortgages	14
% of mortgages with fixed interest rates	100%
Smallest loan	$754,011
Largest loan	$57,183,296
Average loan size	$7,776,299
Undrawn loan commitments	$11,936,514

The Manager's target asset allocation for commercial loans is to generally ensure that no single loan exceeds 30% of the Fund's assets. As the Fund grows, at times a loan asset may exceed 30% prior to organised refinancing or portfolio rebalancing over time.

As at 31 October 2009 the commercial loan allocation was as follows:

Security Property Type Allocation



Geographic Distribution of Security Property

Construction and Development Mortgage Securities

 Non-Construction Mortgage Securities includes pre-development land, completed developments and income generating commercial loans.*

LM Managed Performance Fund Commercial Loans by Maturity Profile as at 31 October 2009

Period maturing	% of Total	Value $
0 - 6 months	39.94%	$50,352,817
6 - 12 months	8.63%	$10,883,185
12 - 18 months	6.06%	$7,645,433
18 - 24 months	0%	$0
30 - 36 months	0%	$0
54 - 60 months	45.37%	$57,183,296

As at 31 October 2009 none of the Fund's commercial loans was in arrears.

The Fund's Direct Property Investments

As at 31 October 2009, the Fund's direct property assets comprise one property. That property is prime residential beachfront land in Townsville with development potential for 17 blocks in a gated community.

further details about investment by personal investors

The Fund allows for direct investment by Non-Australian Resident Investors and Australian Resident Investors ("Personal Investors"). Australian resident investors must be "wholesale" or "sophisticated" investors. Please refer to page 19 of this Information Memorandum titled "Australian Resident Investors" for further details.

Distribution Rates for Personal Investors

Distribution rates are variable, and will depend on income earned and expenses paid by the Fund from time to time, currency rates, commission payable to advisers, and other factors considered relevant by the Manager. Investors can obtain details of the most recent distribution rates from their adviser or from the office of the Manager by telephoning +617 5584 4500.

Reinvestment of Distributions for Personal Investors

- Non-AUD Distributions are automatically reinvested. Investors may elect to have distributions paid either at the end of the investment term, quarterly or monthly to their nominated financial institution account. If the distribution is paid on the anniversary of the investment term it will be paid within 10 business days of the anniversary date or if the distribution is paid quarterly or monthly it will be paid within 10 business days of the quarterly or monthly anniversary of the investment date. If the distribution is paid quarterly or monthly it will not be hedged. Refer to the paragraph headed "Non-AUD Unhedged Quarterly/ Monthly Distributions Option" on page 15 of this Information Memorandum for full details.
- AUD Distributions are automatically reinvested monthly. Investors may elect to have distributions paid to their nominated financial institution account quarterly or monthly. Quarterly distributions are paid within 10 business days of the end of each quarter after the investment date and monthly distributions are paid within 10 business days of the end of each month.

Investors should note that financial institutions may charge a remittance fee which will be deducted from their distribution.

Non-AUD Unhedged Quarterly/Monthly Distributions Option

Non-AUD Investors may elect to have the distribution paid quarterly or monthly by direct credit to the investor's nominated financial institution account. If the distribution is paid quarterly or monthly to an investor's financial institution account the distribution is not hedged. The distribution is not hedged as the Fund pays the quarterly or monthly distribution directly from the earnings of the Fund in Australian dollars. The distribution is calculated monthly and is paid quarterly or monthly in Australian dollars. An example of the calculation is set out below in the paragraph headed Calculation of Non-AUD Unhedged Monthly Distribution. The distribution is remitted in AUD and is subject to currency risk as it is converted by the investor's financial institution at the exchange rate current at that time. The reason the distribution is subject to currency risk is because it does not form part of the FFEC as it does for a non-AUD investment where the distribution is paid at maturity.

If the distribution is paid quarterly or monthly it will be paid within 10 business days of the quarterly or monthly anniversary of the investment date. Investors should note that financial institutions may charge a remittance fee which will be deducted from the investor's distribution amount.

If an investor wants to change the distribution instructions it can only be changed on the anniversary of the investment and written notice must be received by the Manager at least 10 days prior to the anniversary date.

Calculation of Non-AUD Unhedged Monthly Distribution

The calculation of the value of the unhedged distribution will be as follows:-

- The simple rate of return in the relevant non-AUD currency will be converted to the AUD value at the spot rate as at the day of the initial trade date for example:-
  - Investor invests USD$100K and the effective distribution rate is 5.56%pa, the simple rate is 5.42%pa;
  - The USD$100k investment will earn distributions of USD$5,420 calculated as follows:- USD$100k x 5.42%pa for 12 months = USD$5,420;
  - The total distribution amount of USD$5,420 is converted to AUD at the spot rate, for example of 0.93 = AUD$5,828 (the spot rate is determined as the spot rate that prevailed at the time of investment);
  - Investor will be paid monthly distributions of AUD$485.66 calculated as follows: AUD$5,828/12 = AUD$485.66.

Initial Investment for Non-AUD Investments for Personal Investors

On receipt of the investment amount and the completed Application Form (including any relevant supporting documentation) the Manager will confirm receipt with the investor's adviser.

The non-AUD investment amount is held in the subscription account until the Manager exchanges the foreign currency into Australian dollars and simultaneously hedges the relevant currency using FFECs.

All non-AUD investment terms commence on the day the Manager settles the FFEC. For example, if the properly completed Application Form for a 12 month term investment and the investment amount are received by the Manager on 20 March and the FFEC settles on 22 March, the commencement date will be 22 March and the maturity date will be 12 months later. The investment commences to earn interest from 22 March.

The Manager settles FFECs on a daily basis. Investors will be notified by the Manager of the commencement date of their investment in writing.

Initial Investment for AUD Investments

An AUD investment term commences on receipt of the cleared investment amount, completed Application Form and supporting documentation. Investors will be notified by the Manager of the commencement date of their investment in writing.

Additional Investments for Personal Investors

Additional investments can be made at any time to existing investments. Instead of starting a new fixed investment term or Savings Plan investment, the new investment amount will be added to, and from that date form part of, the existing investment. For Example if an investor of a 12 Month Term makes an original investment of $100,000 on 15 March and then in 1 month's time adds another $100,000 the entire $200,000 investment will mature 12 months after the initial $100,000 investment was made. When adding to an investment please remember to:-

- provide the account number – if an investor is unsure of the account number please contact the Manager;
- state the full account name;
- stipulate the amount to be added – payment can be made by any of the methods outlined under "How to Invest" on this page. Any queries please contact the Manager on +617 5584 4500 or 1800 062 919 (Australia only); and
- include a daytime telephone number
- email the additional investment form to investmentservices@LMaustralia.com and remit funds by telegraphic transfer to the relevant currency account for the Fund outlined on pages 20 and 21 of this Information Memorandum.

Personal Investor – Automatic Rollover

If the investor has not ticked the box in Section 14 of the Application Form to continue to rollover the investment for investment terms of the same length, or if the investor has not provided rollover instructions to the Manager at least 90 days prior to the maturity date of the investment term, the following default process will apply:-

- Non-AUD Investments - At the end of the initial investment term the investor's original investment and distribution (unless the investor elects to have the distribution paid direct to the account nominated on the Application Form) are automatically reinvested and rehedged in the originally nominated currency for further 3 month investment terms at the appropriate lower 3 month distribution rate until the investor provides the Manager with written instructions (at least 5 business days prior to the maturity date of the 3 month investment term) to reinvest for a different investment term or to redeem the investment.
- AUD Investments - At the end of the initial investment term an AUD investment is automatically reinvested for further investment terms of the same length at the appropriate investment term distribution rate until the investor provides the Manager with written instructions at least 90 days prior to the maturity date to reinvest for a different investment term or to redeem the investment.

Prior to rollover of the investment investors should consider the current Information Memorandum and consult their adviser to ensure they have the most recent distribution rates. The most recent distribution rates are available from the Manager by telephoning +617 5584 4500 or by visiting the Manager's website at www.LMaustralia.com.

further details about investment by global platform/ portfolio bond investors

Indirect Investors in Global Platforms, Global Portfolio Bonds, Master Trusts, Wrap Account Providers

The Fund allows for investment by Operators of global platforms, global portfolio bonds, master trusts and wrap accounts ("Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors") investing the funds of their clients ("Indirect Investors").

Indirect Investors who gain exposure to the Fund through a Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investor do not:-

- become unit holders in the Fund nor do they acquire the rights of a unit holder in the Fund. The operator of the global platform, global portfolio bond, master trust or wrap account has those rights and can exercise, or decline to exercise them on behalf of the Indirect Investors. Accordingly, a number of statements made in this Information Memorandum (including but not limited to applications, withdrawals, interest distributions, voting rights, and monitoring of investments) pertain only to Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors or other direct investors, and not to Indirect Investors who gain exposure to this Fund through an operator of a global platform, global portfolio bond, master trust or wrap account;
- receive interest distributions or reports directly from the Manager, nor do they directly participate in investor meetings or the winding up of the Fund. Withdrawal time frames for Indirect Investors are dependent on their global platform, global portfolio bond, master trust or wrap account operator.

Indirect Investors should consult with the operator of their global platform, global portfolio bond, master trust or wrap account to obtain information on how their operator deals with applications, withdrawals, interest distributions and monitoring of their investments. Such Indirect Investors should also read the disclosure document issued by the operator of the relevant platform, bond, trust or account.

Distribution Rates for Global Platform/ Portfolio Bond Investors

Distribution rates are variable, and will depend on income earned and expenses paid by the Fund from time to time, currency rates, and other factors considered relevant by the Manager. The interest distributions are reflected in the growth of the unit price for the investment.

Interest Distributions for Global Platform/ Portfolio Bond Investors

Global platforms, global portfolio bonds, master trusts and wrap account investors can elect to have the units equivalent to the Fund distributions redeemed monthly or quarterly and paid to their nominated bank account in your nominated currency. The partial redemption of units equivalent to the distribution will occur within 10 business days of the end of each month or quarter. The redemption will be paid the investor's account nominated on the Application Form.

Additional Investments for Global Platform/ Portfolio Bond Investors

Additional investments can be made at any time to existing investments. Instead of starting a new fixed investment term or Savings Plan investment, the new investment amount will be added to, and from that date form part of, the existing investment. For Example if an investor of a 12 Month Term makes an original investment of $100,000 on 15 March and then in 1 months time adds another $100,000 the entire $200,000 investment will mature 12 months after the initial $100,000 investment was made. When adding to an investment please remember to:-

- provide the account number – if an investor is unsure of the account number please contact the Manager;
- state the full account name;
- stipulate the amount to be added – payment can be made by any of the methods outlined under "How to Invest" on this page. Any queries please contact the Manager on +617 5584 4500 or 1800 062 919 (Australia only);
- include a daytime telephone number; and
- email the additional investment form to investmentservices@LMaustralia.com and remit funds by telegraphic transfer to the relevant currency account for the Fund outlined on pages 20 and 21 of this Information Memorandum.

Initial Investment for Non-AUD Investments

On receipt of the initial investment amount and the completed Application Form the Manager will confirm receipt with the investor.

The non-AUD investment amount is held in the subscription account until the Manager exchanges the foreign currency into Australian dollars and simultaneously hedges the relevant currency using Forward Foreign Exchange Contracts ("FFECs").

All non-Australian dollar investments commence on the day the Manager settles the initial FFEC. The maturity date will be the last business day of the month the investment term commenced which means the first investment term could be slightly longer than the investment term chosen. For example the Manager receives the investment amount and properly completed Application Form for a 12 month term on 15 March and the FFEC settles on 17 March the commencement date will be 17 March and the maturity date will be the last business day of March the following year.

Initial Investment for AUD Investments

An AUD investment term commences on receipt of the cleared investment amount, completed Application Form and supporting documentation. Investors will be notified by the Manager of the commencement date of their investment in writing.

Automatic Rollover for Global Platform/ Portfolio Bond Investors

If the investor has not ticked the box in Section 14 of the Application Form to rollover the investment for further investment terms of the same length, or if the investor has not provided rollover instructions to the Manager at least 90 days prior to the maturity date of the investment term, the following default process will apply:-

At the end of the initial investment term the original investment is automatically reinvested and rehedged (unless the investment is in Australian dollars) in the originally nominated currency for further investment terms of the same length at the appropriate investment term distribution rate.

Unit Pricing for Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors

The daily unit price for each currency option and investment term is available from the Manager's website at www.LMaustralia.com.

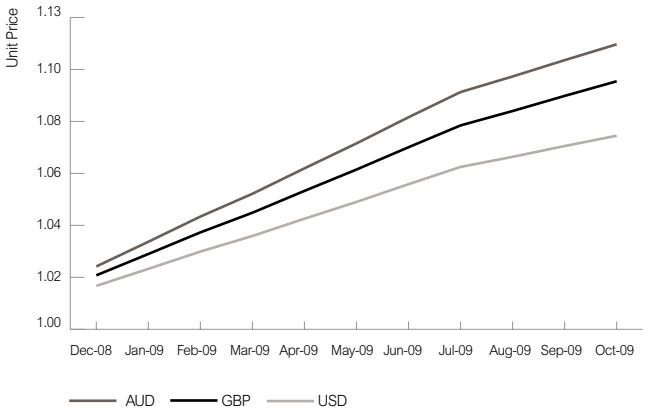
The Fund issues units on application at a variable unit price calculated daily. Unit prices are issued in Australian dollars and presented to investors in the relevant currency equivalent of the Australian dollars. The daily unit price of each currency option and investment term is available from the Manager's website at www.LMaustralia.com.

Various sub-classes of "B" class units will be issued to Global Platform/Portfolio Bond Investors. The issue price for each sub-class of "B" class units will reflect accrued but unpaid distributions payable to the unit holders in that sub-class.

For further details in relation to unit pricing please refer to page 13 of this Information Memorandum under the heading "Unit Pricing".

Global Platform/Portfolio Bond AUD, USD and GBP Historical Unit Prices

Below is the historical performance of the Fund's AUD, USD and GBP rolled up unit prices. Please note other currencies are available for investment in addition to the currencies displayed below.



Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

The unit price may vary and may decrease depending on the performance and value of the assets of the Fund.

australian resident investors

Australian Resident investors in this Fund must be wholesale investors or sophisticated investors as defined under Section 761G or Section 761GA respectively of the Corporations Act.

Below are details of the criteria that an Australian Resident Investor must comply with to invest in the Fund.

Australian resident investors who are applying to invest in the Fund under the provisions of Investor A, Investor B or Investor C must complete the certification for the relevant investor category contained on pages 47 - 50 of this Information Memorandum. The relevant Australian resident investor certification must be submitted with the Application Form and the investment monies to the Manager.

Investor Categories and Minimum Investment Amounts Applicable

Investor A – Minimum investment – AUD$5,000

Each investor must be a natural person and must provide a certificate from a qualified accountant within the preceding 2 years confirming that the investor has net assets of at least AUD$2.5 million or gross income for each of the last two financial years of at least AUD$250,000 per year. The investor's qualified accountant must complete and sign the certificate contained in the Application Form.

Qualified accountant providing the above certificate for an investor means any member of:-

CPA Australia ("CPAA") who is entitled to use the post-nominals "CPA" or "FCPA" and is subject to and complies with the CPAA's continuing professional education requirements; or the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia ("ICAA") who is entitled to use the post nominals "CA", "ACA" or "FCA" and is subject to and complies with the ICAA's continuing professional development requirements; the National Institute of Accountants ("NIA") who is entitled to use the post nominals "PNA", "FPNA" "MNIA" or "FNIA" and is subject to and complies with the NIA's continuing professional education requirements.

Investor B – Minimum investment – AUD$5,000

Investors in this category are "sophisticated investors" under Section 761GA of the Corporation Act.

An investor's licensed financial adviser and the investor must complete and sign the certification to the Manager contained in the Application Form that the investor is a sophisticated investor (as defined under the wholesale client criteria of s761GA of the Corporations Act 2001) as the investor is experienced in using financial services and investing in financial products that allows the investor to assess:-

- the merits of the product or service;
- the value of the product or service;
- the risks associated with holding the product;
- their own information needs; and
- the adequacy of the information provided in the Information Memorandum of the LM Managed Performance Fund; without receiving advice on the product from a financial adviser or being provided with a product disclosure statement which would be required to be given to a retail client (as defined under s761G the Corporations Act) prior to investment.

Investors must also provide a certification of the above as set out on the Application Form. The Manager will rely on these certifications to be satisfied the investor is a sophisticated investor.

Investor C – Minimum investment – AUD $5,000

Investors in this category are 'Professional Investors', as defined under Section 9 of the Corporations Act 2001. Such investors must be one of the following:-

A financial services licensee; a trustee of a superannuation fund, an approved deposit fund or a pooled superannuation trust with at least AUD$10 million in net assets; persons who control at least AUD$10 million; a listed entity or related body corporate of a listed entity; a foreign entity that if incorporated in Australia would be one of the above.

Investor D – Minimum investment – AUD $500,000

An investor who wants to invest a minimum of AUD$500,000.

how to invest

If a properly completed Application Form, supporting documentation and accompanying investment funds arrive before 3:00pm Queensland time on any Gold Coast business day the application will be accepted that day; if later, then that application will be accepted on the next Gold Coast business day.

1. Complete and sign the Application Form attached to this Information Memorandum and applicable Anti-Money Laundering (AML) Form available from the Manager's website at www.LMaustralia.com. Australian investors must also complete the appropriate investor certification, for details refer to page 19 of this Information Memorandum.

2. Remit funds directly by telegraphic transfer (see the details outlined on this page under the heading "Depositing by Telegraphic Transfer").

   Australian investors should note the alternative payment options referred to on the next page under the heading "Australian Investors Investing in Australian Dollars".

3. Fax the completed Application Form and appropriate Anti-Money Laundering Form and copy of the telegraphic transfer to the Manager on +617 5584 4500 and send the original to the Manager by mail at LM Investment Management Ltd, PO Box 485 Surfers Paradise Qld 4217.

An Indirect Investor investing through a global platform, global portfolio bond, master trust or wrap account can only invest in accordance with the disclosure document of the global platform, global portfolio bond, master trust or wrap account.

Australian Resident Investors

Australian resident investors who are applying to invest in the Fund under the provisions of Investor A, Investor B or Investor C must complete the certification for the relevant investor category contained on pages 47 - 50 of this Information Memorandum. The relevant Australian resident investor certification must be submitted with the Application Form and the investment monies to the Manager.

For details in relation to the different Australian resident investor categories please refer to "Australian Resident Investors" on page 19 of this Information Memorandum.

Depositing by Telegraphic Transfer

When making an investment using funds from an overseas account, we recommend an investor use telegraphic transfer. Telegraphic transfers can be arranged with an investor's financial institution by providing it with the following details of the bank account to be credited which are shown below. When remitting funds by telegraphic transfer please provide the telegraphic transfer reference code on the Application Form in Section 15 and attach a copy of the telegraphic transfer to the Application Form.

Investors should note that financial institutions may charge a remittance fee which will be deducted from their investment. The Manager endeavours to ensure inter financier transfer processes are effected promptly, but cannot be held accountable for any delays within the banking system.

For currencies not listed on pages 20 and 21, please contact the Manager to confirm acceptance of currency and to obtain the relevant bank account details for investment.

Please ensure that funds are remitted in the currency to be invested.

Australian Investors Investing in Australian Dollars

There are a number of ways for Australian investors to remit funds for the Australian dollar investment options in the Fund. Australian Dollar investors can:-

complete the Direct Debit Request Form attached to this PDS (for investors with Australian bank accounts only); or make a cheque payable to the Manager (for Australian bank account holders only):- LMIM atf LM Managed Performance Fund; or remit funds directly by electronic direct credit or telegraphic transfer. In this instance once an investor has forwarded the electronic direct credit or telegraphic transfer to the Fund's bank account (details above) the investor must fax the completed Application Form and a copy of the electronic direct credit receipt or telegraphic transfer to the Manager and forward the original by mail.

When remitting funds by electronic direct credit or telegraphic transfer please provide the electronic direct credit or telegraphic transfer reference code on the Application Form in Section 15 and attach a copy of the electronic direct credit receipt or telegraphic transfer to the Application Form. Investors making additional investments must complete the Additional Investment Form available from the Manager's website at www.LMaustralia.com. Investors should note that financial institutions may charge a remittance fee which will be deducted from their investment. We endeavour to ensure inter-financier transfer processes are effected promptly, but cannot be held accountable for any delays within the banking system; or to make payment by credit card please complete the Credit Card Payment Form attached to this PDS and forward it with the Application Form to the Manager. The merchant fees charged by the credit card provider are deducted from the investment funds. The merchant service fee may vary from time to time, but as at the date of this PDS the merchant fees were 1.65% of the investment funds.

how to withdraw

When requesting a withdrawal, investors please remember to:

- provide the name of the Fund and the account number. If an investor has more than one account in the Fund or is unsure of the account number/s please contact the Manager;
- state the full investment account name;
- stipulate the amount to be withdrawn and how it is to be paid;
- include a daytime telephone number; and
- sign the request:–
  - If it is a joint account both investors must sign the request;
  - If company account either 2 directors, 1 director and company secretary, or sole director who is also the sole secretary must sign the request;
  - If a trust account – signed by the trustees in accordance with the trust deed.

Fax & Scanned Images - Terms and Conditions

You should understand that a person without your authority could send the Manager a fax or scanned image, and by pretending to be you, transfer or withdraw funds from your account for their own benefit or request any other changes to your account.

In using fax or scan facilities, you agree that the Manager is not responsible to you for any fraudulently completed communications and that the Manager will not compensate you for any losses.

You agree that should such a fraud take place you release and indemnify the Manager against any liabilities whatsoever arising from the Manager acting on any communication received by fax or scanned image in respect of your investment, to the extent permitted by law.

The Manager will not be liable for any loss or delay resulting from the non-receipt of any transmission. These terms and conditions are in addition to any other requirements that may form part of your giving instructions relating to the completion of a particular authority.

By sending the Manager a fax or scanned image you signify your acceptance of these conditions.

Withdrawal Notice Period

The withdrawal notice must be received by the Manager at least 90 days before the end of the investment term. Ordinarily AUD investment withdrawals are paid within 30 days after the maturity date and non-AUD investment withdrawals are paid within 5 business days after the maturity date. Withdrawal payments are made by direct credit to the investor's financial institution account. To protect all fund investments, payment of withdrawals is currently slowed and is being managed over longer timeframes, as determined necessary by the Manager. Please contact your financial adviser or the Manager for information regarding timeframes. For further details refer to the paragraph headed "Withdrawal Delays" on this page of this Information Memorandum.

If an investor requires withdrawal proceeds to be deposited to an account other than the account nominated on the Application Form please provide the bank account name and number. The Manager may require further documentary evidence.

Where a request for withdrawal is received on any day that is not a business day, the request is deemed to have been received on the next business day.

Withdrawal Delays

The prime objective of the Fund is to deliver income to investors whilst maintaining capital value of investment in the Fund. The priority is to protect all investors and all fund capital. In order to do this and to protect the Fund from volatility in external market conditions, from time to time it may be necessary to extend the timeframes for the payment of withdrawals or to suspend the payment of withdrawals.

Timeframes for withdrawal payments are currently slower than general, due to market conditions brought on by the global financial crisis. Please contact your financial adviser or the Manager for information regarding timeframes. In normal market conditions following receipt of correct withdrawal notice, AUD withdrawals would be paid within 30 days after the maturity date and non-AUD withdrawals would be paid within 5 business days after the maturity date.

Further information on the management mechanism of delaying or suspending withdrawals may be found in the paragraph headed "Liquidity Preservation Rules" on page 28 of this Information Memorandum.

Overseas Remittance

Investors should note that financial institutions charge a remittance fee which will be deducted from their investment. The Manager endeavours to ensure inter financier transfer processes are effected promptly, but are not responsible for any delays within the banking system.

Breaking an Investment Term or Savings Plan

Partial or full withdrawals are NOT permitted:-

- During a fixed term investment; or
- During the initial 12 month term of a Savings Plan investment or more than 2 withdrawals are not permitted in any 12 month period thereafter.

The Manager has complete discretion to allow a partial or full withdrawal during a fixed term investment or Saving Plan. Investors will need to contact the Manager if they want to break the investment term and if the Manager allows the early withdrawal then:-

- For AUD investments the Fund may charge a breaking of investment term fee up to 10% of the investment amount; and
- For non-AUD investments the Fund may charge a breaking of investment term fee up to 10% of the investment amount and in addition may also charge other costs including but not limited to those payable to the financial institution which provides the FFEC. The costs that may be incurred when breaking the FFEC will be calculated with reference to a number of variable factors, including currency market rates and length of time to maturity.

The above fees will be deducted from the investment amount.

Investors should note that the financial impacts on an investor who breaks an investment term with an early withdrawal are likely to result in the investor receiving less than the original amount invested.

Indirect Investors

If Indirect Investors have invested through a global platform, global portfolio bond, master trust or wrap account, then to withdraw all or part of their funds they will need to complete the forms required by the operator of their global platform, global portfolio bond, master trust or warp account and will need to check the terms on which they can withdraw with the operator, including the period of notice they will need to give their operator.

fees

Indirect Investors

This section does not include any fees or costs that may be charged by an operator of a global platform, global portfolio bond, master trust or wrap account to a person who invests in the Fund through such a product ("Indirect Investor"). Indirect investors should contact the operator of the global platform, global portfolio bond, master trust or wrap account for details of fees and costs that may be charged by the operator.

Manager's Fees

The average fees paid to the Manager over the last three financial years was 3.50%pa of funds under management.

The Fund's Management Fee is not expected to exceed 10%pa of the net assets of the Fund. The Manager is entitled to be indemnified out of Fund assets for any costs incurred in relation to the Fund.

Advisers/Intermediaries Fees

Adviser/Intermediary fees are fees paid to an adviser/intermediary for professional financial advice. They are negotiated between the investor and the adviser/intermediary. These fees may be paid from the Fund as a lump sum and/or trail commission. If an investor chooses not to use an adviser, an investor's individual distribution rate will still be calculated as if a fee of 3.3% pa (including GST) of the investment amount was payable to an adviser/intermediary. Any such amount not paid to an adviser/intermediary will be used to meet Management Costs.

The individual distribution rates payable to investors will vary dependent on the adviser/intermediary fees paid by the Fund. This adviser/intermediary fee is an expense of the Fund. The Manager's reasonable expectation is that such fees would be up to 3.3% pa (including GST) of your investment amount, but they could be higher. You should discuss the payment of this fee directly with your adviser.

The Manager may also pay properly authorised advisers/intermediaries an additional marketing fee from time to time out of its own funds.

Early Withdrawal Fee

Withdrawal during an investment term is not permitted. The Manager may process a withdrawal request during an investment term at its discretion. The Manager may charge a fee up to 10% of the investment amount plus all associated costs if it approves an investor's early withdrawal request. This will be charged against the balance of the investor's funds to be withdrawn.

Bank and Government Fees and Charges

Bank and government fees, charges and duties (for example Government Debits Tax) that are levied in connection with the receipt of an amount invested or sought to be invested, any withdrawal and the payment of interest are the liability of the Fund and will be deducted from the Fund by the Manager. A fee is charged if a special clearance of a cheque that is paid to the Manager is required, this may include a courier delivery fee. A cheque dishonour fee will be charged if a cheque paid to the Manager is dishonoured because of lack of funds.

Changes to Fees

The Manager may vary the fees specified on this page at any time at its discretion within the prescribed limits of the Fund's constitution.

adviser access to investment information

Advisers can Monitor an Investor's Investment

Changing Details

Investors can advise the Manager of their change of address, email or telephone number/s by telephoning the Manager on 1800 062 919 (Australia only) or +617 5584 4500 or emailing the Manager at mail@LMaustralia.com.

All other changes including bank account details must be made by written request signed by the investor/s and sent to the Manager by:-

- Faxing the signed request to +617 5592 4116; or
- Scanning the signed request and emailing it to the Manager at investmentservices@LMaustralia.com; or
- Mailing the original signed request to the Manager at PO Box 485, Surfers Paradise, QLD, 4217 Australia.

Change of Details Forms can be obtained from the offices of the Manager or online at www.LMaustralia.com.

Refer to page 22 for fax and scanned images terms and conditions.

investment risks

While the Manager does invest in a range of conventional investments, investors should be aware that the Fund will also participate in less conventional investment activities should the opportunity arise.

Investors will have no input into the type of investment activities of the Fund, and will be unable to designate where funds are invested. Investors who seek a level of certainty or control over how their funds are invested should not invest their money in this Fund.

Risk Management

Investors should be aware that there is risk involved in investing in the Fund, due to its diverse investment mandate.

The Manager attempts to minimise risk by:-

- undertaking a comprehensive due diligence process for new investment opportunity prior to investing any funds;
- undertaking a detailed risk assessment of all new investment opportunities;
- completing a detailed financial analysis of all investment opportunities prior to investing any funds, including legal and financial due diligence;
- employing experienced, professional personnel;
- maintaining a long term vision for the Fund;
- complying rigidly with its internal compliance program; and
- actively monitoring and managing the assets of the Fund.

Investors should be aware that there are a number of significant risks associated with investments of this nature. The Fund is not a registered managed investment scheme under the Corporations Act. Given the diverse range of investment activities of the Fund, it is not possible to provide a description of material risks specific to each particular investment activity. Instead, investors must be aware of the general risks involved in the style of investment activities undertaken by the Fund, and be aware that the Manager is authorised to invest in any opportunity which it assesses as appropriate. This section sets out a number of risks which investors should consider before investing in the Fund. Investors who are not prepared to accept these risks and the wide investment discretion of the Manager should not invest in the Fund. The risks and comments set out in this section are intended as a guide only and the Manager recommends that investors seek professional financial advice.

Potential Risk	Comments
Capital Risk	The investments of the Fund are not capital guaranteed, and there is a risk that the value of the investment might decline. No losses have occurred, or are expected to occur at the date of this Information Memorandum.
Unit Price	The unit price is variable and may increase or decrease depending on the performance of the investment portfolio of the Fund. The Manager is constantly assessing various investment sectors in order to determine which sectors have the best potential in terms of income, capital growth and/or capital security.
Currency Risk	Non-Australian dollar investments in the Fund are hedged in the relevant currency against Australian dollar currency movements. The Fund currency hedges a non-Australian dollar investment through the use of Forward Foreign Exchange Contracts ("FFEC'"). Investors should however, be aware that any delay or shortfall in income or capital payments from the Fund may result in a loss for the Fund due to breaking a FFEC. In such an event, the investment will not be currency hedged and income and/or capital may be impacted. Personal Investors with non-Australian dollar investments who have elected to have the distributions paid quarterly or monthly should note the distribution is not hedged as the Fund pays the quarterly or monthly distribution directly from the earnings of the Fund in Australian dollars. The distribution does not form part of the FFEC as it does for a non-AUD investment where the distribution is paid at maturity and as such the quarterly or monthly unhedged distribution is subject to currency risk.
Property Market Risk	Property market risk is the risk that negative movements in the property market may impact on the capacity to fully recover the amount owing on a mortgage. The Manager manages this risk by strictly complying with its lending guidelines and the efficiency of its collections systems. Mortgage securities are reviewed on an ongoing basis with updated valuations obtained where appropriate.If the Fund has directly acquired the property not only could the value of the property decline, there are also additional risks that the tenants fail to meet their lease obligations, tenancies cannot be re-leased in a timely fashion, property may be damaged by fire or some other disaster which either causes the property to lose value or requires additional expenditure. The Manager does not purchase direct real property without first having obtained an independent valuation, a full review of the tenants including any guarantor arrangements provided by third parties. As a matter of course, the property must be insured against fire and usual insurable risks and where necessary maintenance contracts will be entered into with suitably qualified contractors to ensure the ongoing efficient management and maintenance of the property.

Potential Risk	Comments
Mortgage Investments	The Fund will lend directly to some borrowers and will invest in other funds managed by the Manager. The Manager's mortgage based funds have a conservative lending policy in relation to mortgage securities and follow strict lending guidelines. The Manager generally lends to borrowers seeking loan funding for business, development or investment purposes. Various types of real estate are offered as security for mortgages including residential, commercial, industrial or retail property. The Manager does not generally engage in lending activities that may be subject to the Consumer Credit Code. In the case of development or construction mortgages, the Manager reviews all project feasibilities and monitors development progress throughout the term.
Liquidity Risk	A delay in meeting an investor's withdrawal request is possible where there are a significant number of withdrawal requests received at the same time, which absorb the cash reserves of the Fund and if assets of the Fund are not sufficiently liquid. In certain circumstances the Manager may be entitled to slow the payment of or suspend withdrawals for such periods as it determines. Refer to the paragraph headed "Liquidity Preservation Rules" on page 28 of the Information Memorandum.
Share Market Risks	The Fund may invest in specialist managed funds which in turn hold income bearing cash investments, long and short term securities (including equity securities and derivatives on securities) which may be quoted on recognised stock exchanges. The value of these investments might decline for reasons including domestic and international economic conditions, changes in government fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies, changes in interest rates, the rate of inflation or changes in the circumstances of the companies or funds in which the specialist managed funds invest. A return on investments in the Fund or repayment of capital invested in the Fund is not guaranteed. The Manager mitigates this risk by utilising specialist fund managers to invest the Fund's assets held in this sector. Each specialist is chosen following an extensive and rigorous research process that examines their investment style, the expertise of their investment team and a range of other factors. The Manager reviews each specialist fund manager's performance on an ongoing basis, ensuring that they operate within the mandated expectations and guidelines.
Default Procedures in respect to Loans by the Fund	There is a risk that borrowers will fail to honour their obligations to repay the loan (or interest) when it is due or at all. Arrangements are in place to give a borrower a substantial incentive to effect timely payments, including a lower rate of interest applicable for prompt payment. If a borrower is late in effecting an interest payment or otherwise is in default, appropriate action is taken to protect the interests of investors. A default notice may be issued to the borrower and if not satisfied, the Manager may exercise rights under the loan agreement, such as exercising the power of sale of all property held as security.
Distribution Risk	Distributions to investors depend on the performance of the underlying investments. The Manager is unable to guarantee that investors will receive a return on their investment. The Manager manages distribution risk by investing in a diverse range of investment activities with various terms and projected returns. Investors should note that past performance is not necessarily indicative of future returns.
Borrowing Risk	If the Fund borrows, then reductions in Fund income, increases in interest rates or a refusal of a financier to extend the term of any facility could cause the Fund to default on its loan and the financier would have first right of recourse to the assets of the Fund. Under the constitution for the Fund there is no limit to which the Manager may borrow against the Fund assets. However, at the date of this Information Memorandum the Fund has no borrowings.
Government Policies	Investment performance may be affected by changes to government policy in relation to taxes, exchange rates, legislative changes, land tax, income tax and other government factors. These factors are generally beyond the control of the Manager.

additional information

Payment and Other Instructions

Each investor releases, discharges and agrees to indemnify the Manager from and against all actions, proceedings, accounts, claims and demands whatsoever and howsoever arising from or in connection with or in any way related to the Manager in good faith accepting and acting on instructions received by facsimile transmission which are signed by or purport to be signed by an authorised signatory or signatories.

Changes to Terms and Conditions and Distribution Rates

The distribution rates and fees that apply to investors' investment accounts can change from time to time without notice. Investment terms and conditions can also be changed by giving notice of the changes. Investors will be deemed to have received notice on the second business day after the mailing of the notice.

Fax & Scanned Images - Terms and Conditions

You should understand that a person without your authority could send the Manager a fax or scanned image, and by pretending to be you, transfer or withdraw funds from your account for their own benefit or request any other changes to your account.

In using fax or scan facilities, you agree that the Manager is not responsible to you for any fraudulently completed communications and that the Manager will not compensate you for any losses.

You agree that should such a fraud take place you release and indemnify the Manager against any liabilities whatsoever arising from the Manager acting on any communication received by fax or scanned image in respect of your investment, to the extent permitted by law.

The Manager will not be liable for any loss or delay resulting from the non-receipt of any transmission. These terms and conditions are in addition to any other requirements that may form part of your giving instructions relating to the completion of a particular authority.

By sending the Manager a fax or scanned image you signify your acceptance of these conditions.

Joint Investors

If an investment in the Fund is held jointly with one or more other persons, the Manager can send the joint investors notices, statements or other documents (including any changes to investment terms and conditions) by mailing them to any one of the joint holders (that is, you or any of the other joint holders) at their nominated correspondence address. Each of the joint investors will be deemed to have received the notice, statement or other document the second business day after it is sent. If the Manager gives these notices, statements or other documents to any one of the joint holders, their authorised delegate or adviser, they will be deemed to have been received by all of the joint holders.

Applications signed by several parties are deemed to be signed as joint tenants and unless otherwise agreed all parties must sign to authorise a withdrawal.

Non-resident Investors

If an investor is not an Australian resident for taxation purposes, the investor must (when completing the Application Form) provide their overseas residential address. Withholding tax will then be deducted from distributions before they are paid to investors. The tax rate will depend on the investors country of residence*. Non-resident investors may be entitled to claim a credit for withholding tax deducted in their country of residence. Investors should consult their taxation adviser for further specific advice.

*Withholding tax is generally deducted at a rate of 10% from interest distributions for most countries, however some exceptions do apply. Please refer to the relevant Australian Double Taxation Treaty for further information. Investors should consult their taxation adviser for further specific advice.

Entities such as charities that hold tax exempt status will not incur any Australian tax, including withholding tax.

Taxation Information

The Fund does not generally pay tax on distributions to investors. It is the Manager's intention to distribute all income in the year received. Income received by each investor will generally be taxable at the investor's own marginal tax rate. As each investor's taxation position is different, the Manager recommends that each investor seek professional advice prior to investing in the Fund. The taxation information contained in this Information Memorandum is of a general nature only and applies solely to Australian resident investors (for income tax purposes). All tax liability rests with investors.

Capital Gains Tax

If the Fund disposes of an asset, any capital gain on the disposal must be included in the Fund's calculation of net capital gain. The net capital gain of the Fund will be distributed to investors as part of the investor's share of the Fund's taxable income for the year (in proportion to the investor's investment in the Fund).

Where the disposal of an asset results in a capital loss, the loss will be retained by the Fund and not distributed to investors. The capital loss will generally be available to the Fund to offset any future capital gains of the Fund.

If an asset of the Fund is disposed of after it has been owned by the Fund for more than 12 months, any capital gain derived by the Fund as a result of the disposal will potentially be reduced by 50% for the purposes of calculating the net capital gain of the Fund.

The Manager will send to each investor their annual taxation statement by the end of September each year. Investors should not complete their taxation returns until they receive this statement.

Goods and Services Tax ("GST")

Goods and services tax ("GST") is not directly applicable to an investor's investment in the Fund when they invest or redeem their investment. The Fund may incur GST in respect to various expenses and the Fund may not be entitled to input tax credits with respect to all the GST the Fund incurs.

Privacy – use and disclosure of personal information

The privacy of an investor's personal information is important to the Manager. The purpose of collecting investor information on the Application Form is to process the application and manage an investor's investment in the Fund. If the information an investor gives is not complete or accurate, the Manager may not be able to provide the products and services applied for.

In processing the application and managing investors' investments in the Fund, the Manager may disclose personal information to other parties such as an investor's financial adviser and/or IT service providers of financial advisers, the financial adviser's licensee or as required by law.

Investors are entitled to request reasonable access to their personal information. The Manager reserves the right to charge an administration fee for collating the information requested.

For further details on the Manager's Privacy Policy please visit the Manager website at www.LMaustralia.com.

The Constitution

The Fund is governed by a Constitution. The terms and conditions of the Constitution are binding on LM Investment Management Ltd and all those investors who from time to time apply for and are accepted as investors in the Fund.

The rights and entitlements of investors in the Fund, and the obligations of the Manager, are set out in the Constitution. A copy of the Constitution and any amendments is available for inspection at the head office of the Manager upon request. All the assets and undertakings of the Fund will be held in the name of the Manager as trustee of the Fund. A summary of the more important features of the Constitution is set out below.

Appointment, Retirement or Removal of Manager

The Manager may retire as trustee of the Fund on 3 months notice. The holders of not less than 50% of the units on issue may by notice in writing appoint a new trustee to fill a vacancy in the office of Manager. The Manager may be removed as trustee as provided for under common law.

Units

The beneficial interests in the Fund are divided into units. Different classes of units may be issued with different rights and entitlements.

Withdrawal of Units

An investor in the Fund must give notice to the Manager of its intention to withdraw its units. The minimum notice period will be as advised by the Manager from time to time. The Manager may withdraw any units at any time without notice to the relevant investor/s.

Liquidity Preservation Rules

The Manager may suspend or delay withdrawals for such periods as it may determine where:-

- the Fund's cash reserves fall below 5% of the value of units on issue; or
- if in any calendar month the Manager receives net redemption requests equal to 10% or more of the Fund's issued units; or
- any other event or circumstance arises which the Manager considers in its absolute discretion may be detrimental to the interests of investors in the Fund.

Transfer of Units

Investors may transfer their units provided the transfer is in accordance with law and the transferee agrees in writing to be bound by the Constitution. The instrument of transfer may be required by the Manager as evidence of the transfer prior to updating the unit register.

Transmission of Units

If an investor in the Fund dies, the survivor (or survivors where the investor was a joint holder) and the legal personal representative of the deceased will be the only persons recognised by the Manager as having any title to the investor's interest in the Fund. The Manager may require evidence of an investor's death and grant of probate of the will as it thinks fit.

The Register

The Manager will maintain a register of investors in the Fund and their holdings of units in the Fund. Every investor in the Fund must promptly notify any change of name or address to the Manager and the Manager must alter the register accordingly.

Manager's Powers

The Manager has every power as if it were the absolute owner of the Fund property and acting in its personal capacity. Whilst there are no restrictions specified in the Constitution (subject to the law) in how the Manager may invest Fund property, it is acknowledged that Fund property may be used for:-

- investing in managed investment funds, and/or
- investing directly in securities, and/or
- making loans to third parties (including related parties) approved by the Manager, and/or
- investing in direct real property; and/or
- working capital requirements of the Manager.

Distributable Income

The distributable income of the Fund is income of the Fund less expenses and provisions of the Fund.

Income and Capital Distribution

The Manager must distribute to investors in the Fund within 10 business days of the end of each distribution period the distributable income for each distribution period.

The Manager may allow investors to reinvest any or all of their distributable income entitlement by way of application for additional units in the Fund.

The Manager must make distributions to investors in proportion to the number of units held by the investor on the last day of the distribution period divided by the number of units on the register at that date.

The Manager must distribute any cash representing Fund capital amongst the holders in the same proportion as income is distributed.

Manager Fees

The Manager is entitled to be paid fees as disclosed in this Information Memorandum in relation to carrying out its duties as Manager of the Fund.

Tax, Costs and Expenses

The Manager may use the Fund assets to pay any tax, liability or expense incurred in carrying out its duties as Manager of the Fund.

Manager's Indemnity

To the extent allowed by law, the Manager is indemnified out of the Fund assets against any claim, action, damage, loss, liability, costs, expenses or payment which the Manager incurs or is liable for, provided that it does not arise from the fraud, negligence or willful default of the Manager or its employees.

Protection of Investors

The Constitution limits the liability of investors to the unpaid issue price of the investor's units unless the investor agrees otherwise in writing.

Financial Statements

The Manager must cause proper accounting records to be kept. The Manager must prepare and make available to all investors the financial statements of the Fund for each financial year.

Notices

All notices must be in writing and addressed to the head office of the Manager at PO Box 485, Surfers Paradise Qld 4217, Australia. Notice is only taken as given on receipt by the Manager at its head office.

Power of Attorney

Under the Constitution each investor by signing the application form appoints the Manager and any of its directors, officers, attorneys or substitutes as its attorney and agent at the time the investor signs the Application Form. The power of attorney provides the attorney with the right to sign documents in relation to any subscription or redemption agreement, to sign documents of transfer or transmission of units, to sign variations of the Constitution and to sign any document required by the law to be executed by an investor in respect of the Fund.

Changing the Constitution

The Constitution may be modified, repealed or replaced by the Manager where the Manager considers the change will not adversely affect investors' rights or is deemed necessary to conduct the affairs of the Fund by the Manager.

Term of the Fund

The Fund will be wound up 80 years from the commencement date or on any earlier date, which the Manager may determine at its sole discretion.

Governing Law

The laws of Queensland, Australia govern the Constitution.

Complaints Procedure

If an investor has a complaint they should generally first contact their adviser. If the adviser is unavailable, unwilling, or unable to assist, or if the investor wishes to directly contact the Manager, and the complaint relates to the Funds or the Manager, then the investor should contact the Client Relations Department at the office of the Manager on free call 1800 062 919 (Australia only) or +617 5584 4500. Complaints may be made in writing or by telephone. The Manager will respond within 30 days of receiving the complaint. The Manager is a member of the Financial Ombudsman Service.

Related Parties

The LM Managed Performance Fund has a broad investment mandate which allows the Manager to drive performance through the informed selection of a range of investment opportunities.

LM Investment Management Ltd has operated as an Australian fund manager for approximately 10 years, during which time it has developed significant property expertise through the management of the LM First Mortgage Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. LM utilises its property expertise and its business relationships from within Australia's property sector, to select investments that offer the LM Managed Performance Fund investors a yield appropriate for property/ property related investment. The yield is delivered to investors through the Fund as income only, to simplify Australian taxation requirements for property and for non-Australian resident investors.

In addition, the Fund is able to enter into related party transactions either directly or through joint ventures.

Related party transactions can only be approved where the security of the investment and the financial capacity of those involved meet the commercial criteria required for all the Fund's investments. All Fund investments follow the same stringent due diligence process and are only ever approved on commercial arms length terms.

As at the date of this Information Memorandum the Fund had loans to related entities to the value of $34,652,328. All loans were granted on commercial terms and conditions.

Indemnity

To the extent allowed by law the Manager is not liable for any loss or damage to any person (including any investor) arising out of any matter provided the Manager acts in good faith and in accordance with the Fund's Constitution.

Disclaimer

This Information Memorandum has been prepared by the Manager based on information within its own knowledge or provided to it by its advisers. Other than is required by law, no responsibility is taken by the Manager or any parties mentioned in this Information Memorandum for any statement made in relation to the Fund other than those statements made in this Information Memorandum. Neither the Manager, nor such party gives any guarantee with respect to the performance of an investment or the Fund. The Manager has authorised the issue of this Information Memorandum. The Manager does not purport to advise investors in relation to their investment in the Fund or their taxation position.

Electronic Information Memorandum

This Information Memorandum is available in electronic form at www.LMaustralia.com to financial advisers. Any person receiving this Information Memorandum electronically will on request be sent a paper copy of the Information Memorandum (and attached Application Form) by the Manager free of charge during the period of the offer. Applications must be made by completing a paper copy of the Application Form which forms part of this Information Memorandum.

The Manager will not accept a completed Application Form if it has reason to believe that the applicant has not received a complete paper copy or electronic copy of the Information Memorandum or if it has reason to believe that the Application Form or electronic copy of the Information Memorandum has been altered or tampered with in any way. While the Manager believes that it is extremely unlikely that during the period of the offer the electronic version of the Information Memorandum will be tampered with or altered in any way, the Manager cannot give any absolute assurance that this will not occur. Any investor in doubt concerning the validity or integrity of an electronic copy of the Information Memorandum should immediately request a paper copy of the Information Memorandum direct from the Manager or their adviser.

The directors of LM Investment Management Ltd have authorised and consented to the issue of this Information Memorandum for the Fund.

anti-money laundering procedures

The Australian Government has introduced the anti-money laundering legislation to help combat money-laundering and financing terrorism. Under this legislation the Manager is required to collect more information from investors.

The Manager of the Fund needs to identify the underlying owner of each investment. For example, a private company will need to provide supporting documentation to identify the directors and shareholders as well as the usual account opening information. The Manager is also required to identify certain other parties to the investment such as a trustee or power of attorney.

If you are an existing investor with the LM Managed Performance Fund and are making an additional investment using the same customer name, then you may also be required to provide us with verification documents. The Manager will contact you if required.

For wholesale investors e.g. master trusts or wrap services, please contact the Manager for the latest wholesale form which includes Anti-Money Laundering details if not already completed.

What Documentation Needs to be Submitted with the Application

Your financial adviser will be able to assist you in providing the necessary verification documents. In addition to completing the Application Form in the Information Memorandum investors will need to complete an Anti-Money Laundering Form applicable to the investor's classification (i.e. individual, company, trust, country the investor resides etc). These forms are located on the Manager's website at www.LMaustralia.com.

Queries

Should you require further information in relation to what documents need to be submitted with an application or if you are unsure which classification your application falls under please contact your financial adviser or the Manager on +617 5584 4500 prior to submitting an application.

Incomplete Applications

An application cannot be processed by the Manager unless the appropriate verification documentation and information is supplied with the application or if the Manager is not satisfied with the legitimacy of the verification documentation or information supplied. The Manager takes no responsibility for any delay in processing an incomplete application. In any event, the Manager will contact advisers as soon as practicable and ask them to supply the necessary additional information for the investor in order for the application to be processed.

The Manager reserves the right to refuse or cancel applications at any time if it believes that the application breaches any anti-money laundering/counter-terrorism financing law or the money laundering or terrorism financing risk is unacceptable to the Manager.

Dear KordaMentha

Thank you for e-mail of today.

I still insist that my matured funds should be paid in full because LM have kept my money without my authority and in my opinion this is fraud.
So I hope that KordaMentha consider and advice court directors with my case as I need my funds back in full.

Thanking you for your assistance and co-operation.

> Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

KordaMentha

Futher tp my last e-mail sent to you on Monday 17th April 201.

As you are aware a copy of the original application was sent to you as requested for further investigation.

Since LM have kept my money after they have been matured without my authority and against their prospectus, I am still expecting my full amount of money back with further delay.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my request as soon as possible.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation and assistance.

As you are aware a copy of the original application have been sent to you as requested for further investigation by MFSP namely Ms Lorainne Falzon.

I hope to receive all my money back because LM have kept my money after maturity without my authority. My funds matured in August 2012 and these funds should have been refunded to me in August 2012.

As you know I am still without my money back, because LM kept my money against their prospectus which is illegal.

I expect my money to be refunded without further delay.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

As previously advised the Trustee is not in a position to make any distribution in respect to your investment, regardless of whether the investment matured prior to the closure of the Fund.

To prevent further lengthy email communication, it may be easier to arrange a time for a telephone call to discuss your individual investment. If you would like to arrange a call, please nominate 2-3 dates and times (during Australian business hours) which are suitable to you and we will provide you with a phone number.

I still cannot understand why KordaMentha is treating all investors as their fund matured or not on the same level. Kindly note that matured funds before LM insolvency should have been refunded and not retained by LM without the authority of the investor.

LM have kept my matured money without my authority and this was against of their prospectus. So my money should be refunded IN FULL.

I hope that my case should be treated more fundamentally and according to legality.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

Dear Charles

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Kind regards

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Please refer to that attached correspondence to Loraine.

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear KordaMentha

Further again to your e-mail with regards my matured funds, I would like to remind you, that LM has retained my matured money without my authority and this is illegal and against their prospectus. So my money should not be considered the same as the other investors and as you have stated.
I repeat and I insist that my money should be refunded back to me in full and without further delay.

I hope that Court directions be guided well by KordaMentha with my situation and especially with my case.

Kindly note also that I am really frustrated.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Dear KordaMentha

As you are aware a copy of the original application have been sent to you as requested for further investigation by MFSP namely Ms Lorainne Falzon.

I hope to receive all my money back because LM have kept my money after maturity without my authority. My funds matured in August 2012 and these funds should have been refunded to me in August 2012.

As you know I am still without my money back, because LM kept my money against their prospectus which is illegal.

I expect my money to be refunded without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my situation more carefully.

Dear Charles,

As previously advised the Trustee is not in a position to make any distribution in respect to your investment, regardless of whether the investment matured prior to the closure of the Fund.

To prevent further lengthy email communication, it may be easier to arrange a time for a telephone call to discuss your individual investment. If you would like to arrange a call, please nominate 2-3 dates and times (during Australian business hours) which are suitable to you and we will provide you with a phone number.

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thank you for your e-mail of today.

I still cannot understand why KordaMentha is treating all investors as their fund matured or not on the same level. Kindly note that matured funds before LM insolvency should have been refunded and not retained by LM without the authority of the investor.

LM have kept my matured money without my authority and this was against of their prospectus. So my money should be refunded IN FULL.

I hope that my case should be treated more fundamentally and according to legality.

Dear Charles

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.
I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.
My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.
LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Since LM have kept my money after they have been matured without my authority and against their prospectus, I am still expecting my full amount of money back with further delay.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my request as soon as possible.

I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my situation more carefully.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Kind Regards,

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.
I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.
My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.
LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thanking you in advance for your earliest co-operation and assistance.

Regards

Charles Borg

Dear Charles,

We note your continued emails regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

I advise that the Trustee is not in a position to make any distribution in respect to your investment, regardless of whether the investment matured prior to the closure of the Fund. As previously advised, the Fund is being wound up and any return to investors will be dependent on the outcome of the winding up.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Dear Kordamentha

Reference to your e-mail of today 3rd July 2017 wherein you are still threatening all investors the same that had their funds matured and not matured, I still insist that I disagree with such decision by leaving such incredible decision/directions to court.
My Money were kept by LM without my authority and such decision by LM is against their prospectus so this is completely illegal and in my opinion this is completely fraud. This is the main reason that my money should be paid back in full and without any further delay.

MATURED FUNDS BEFORE INSOLVENCY SHOULD BE PAID TO ALL INVESTORS BECAUSE LM PROSPECTUS DOES NOT COVER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT DECISION.

Hoping that my case will be treaded accordingly and as per whole truth.

Thanking you for your co-operation.

Best regards

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Dear Lorraine,

I apologise for the delay in response to your email.

I confirm that we are not aware of any Australian regulator compensation scheme which is available to the unitholders of the Managed Performance Fund.

The Trustee will advise unitholders if it becomes aware of any such scheme.

Dear Kordamentha

Reference to your e-mail dated 3rd July and to my e-mail (being reply to Kordamentha) dated 3rd July 2017 also. As I have told you several times, my funds matured before LM was insolvent. LM kept my matured money without my authority. Their prospectus does not say that LM have the right to keep my matured funds and so this is illegal. Kordamentha cannot threat all investors the same of those investors who had matured funds or not because LM prospectus do NOT say so. This decision taken by Kordamentha or court is against LM prospectus. LM kept my money illegal and so Kordamentha should refund me back my matured money. This decision should not be sent by Kordamentha to court as this is against LM prospectus. The reality for such decision should be taken by Kordamentha on what is written in the prospectus and not in court decisions.

A FUNDAMENTAL EVIDENCE IS REQUIRED FOR SUCH DECISION TO BE TAKEN WHETHER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT. I STILL INSIST THAT SUCH DECISIONS HAS TO BE TAKEN ON THE REALLITY OF LM PROSPECTUS AND NOT BY COURT.

I hope to receive my full amount of funds without further delay as I have been chasing my money which have matured on 12th August 2012 i.e. nearly five years now.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

> Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

> Thank you for your e-mail of today.

I still cannot understand why KordaMentha is treating all investors as their fund matured or not on the same level. Kindly note that matured funds before LM insolvency should have been refunded and not retained by LM without the authority of the investor.

LM have kept my matured money without my authority and this was against of their prospectus. So my money should be refunded IN FULL.

I hope that my case should be treated more fundamentally and according to legality.

Please be advised that when I have invested in LM, I have agreed with LM that such funds were being invested for TWO YEARS ONLY. Such funds were matured and LM were not authorized to keep my funds in their hands. They did not have any right to keep my funds in their hands. I repeat my words that this is completely ILLEGAL and their prospectus doesn't say to do so.

I hope that the responsible people consider again my personal case more fundamentally because I am really desperate and frustrated with such attitude being betrayed by LM in such incredible manner.

I think that MFSP whom I have contacted for this investment in Malta have more reasons and understandings how I have been faced in this problem whom they are always copied with my correspondence with you.

The Truth is that such betrayal should not have existed.

Thanking you as usual for your co-operation and assistance.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Dear KordaMentha

Reference is made to my last e-mail dated 15th July 2017 for which I did not receive any kind of reply.
I still insist that my funds should be paid up in full without any further delay.
My matured funds before LM insolvency and according to their prospectus should have been refunded to me in FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY.
KordaMentha or the court should give ME WRITTEN EVIDENCE IF THEY ARE GOING TO TREAT ME THE SAME AS THOSE INVESTORS THAT HAD NO MATURED FUNDS.

LM PROSPECTUS DO NOT SAY THAT INVESTORS WITH MATURED FUNDS AND THOSE INVESTORS WHO HAD NO MATURED FUNDS HAVE TO BE TREATED THE SAME.

You are kindly requested to send my money back in full without any further delay.

Thanking you for your assistance and co-operation.

Best Regards

LM kept my matured money without my authority. Their prospectus does not say that LM have the right to keep my matured funds and so this is illegal. Kordamentha cannot threat all investors the same of those investors who had matured funds or not because LM prospectus do NOT say so. This decision taken by Kordamentha or court is against LM prospectus. LM kept my money illegal and so Kordamentha should refund me back my matured money. This decision should not be sent by Kordamentha to court as this is against LM prospectus. The reality for such decision should be taken by Kordamentha on what is written in the prospectus and not in court decisions.

My Money were kept by LM without my authority and such decision by LM is against their prospectus so this is completely illegal and in my opinion this is completely fraud. This is the main reason that my money should be paid back in full and without any further delay.

MATURED FUNDS BEFORE INSOLVENCY SHOULD BE PAID TO ALL INVESTORS BECAUSE LM PROSPECTUS DOES NOT COVER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT DECISION.

Hoping that my case will be treaded accordingly and as per whole truth.

Thanking you for your co-operation.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Kind Regards,

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Dear Kordamentha

As you maybe aware, I have sent you two e-mails dated 15th July and 11th August 2017 and both of them were not replied by yourselves.

Such attitude do not encourage or satisfy investors.

I am just reminding you so that we innocent investors will get some sort of hope to recover our matured investment before LM became insolvent

I still insist that my funds should be refunded to me without further delay.

Matured funds should be refunded because LM did not have any wright to keep them. This may be confirmed by LM prospectus.

Your co-operation and assistance is highly appreciated.

My matured funds before LM insolvency and according to their prospectus should have been refunded to me in FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY.
KordaMentha or the court should give ME WRITTEN EVIDENCE IF THEY ARE GOING TO TREAT ME THE SAME AS THOSE INVESTORS THAT HAD NO MATURED FUNDS.

LM PROSPECTUS DO NOT SAY THAT INVESTORS WITH MATURED FUNDS AND THOSE INVESTORS WHO HAD NO MATURED FUNDS HAVE TO BE TREATED THE SAME.

You are kindly requested to send my money back in full without any further delay.

Reference to your e-mail dated 3rd July and to my e-mail (being reply to Kordamentha) dated 3rd July 2017 also. As I have told you several times, my funds matured before LM was insolvent. LM kept my matured money without my authority. Their prospectus does not say that LM have the right to keep my matured funds and so this is illegal. Kordamentha cannot threat all investors the same of those investors who had matured funds or not because LM prospectus do NOT say so. This decision taken by Kordamentha or court is against LM prospectus. LM kept my money illegal and so Kordamentha should refund me back my matured money. This decision should not be sent by Kordamentha to court as this is against LM prospectus. The reality for such decision should be taken by Kordamentha on what is written in the prospectus and not in court decisions.

A FUNDAMENTAL EVIDENCE IS REQUIRED FOR SUCH DECISION TO BE TAKEN WHETHER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT. I STILL INSIST THAT SUCH DECISIONS HAS TO BE TAKEN ON THE REALLITY OF LM PROSPECTUS AND NOT BY COURT.

I hope to receive my full amount of funds without further delay as I have been chasing my money which have matured on 12th August 2012 i.e. nearly five years now.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation and assistance.

My Money were kept by LM without my authority and such decision by LM is against their prospectus so this is completely illegal and in my opinion this is completely fraud. This is the main reason that my money should be paid back in full and without any further delay.

MATURED FUNDS BEFORE INSOLVENCY SHOULD BE PAID TO ALL INVESTORS BECAUSE LM PROSPECTUS DOES NOT COVER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT DECISION.

Hoping that my case will be treaded accordingly and as per whole truth.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Dear KordaMentha

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thanking you in advance for your earliest co-operation and assistance.

Regards

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

Whilst we note your advice that the monies were not received, please note that KordaMentha was appointed as trustee of the Fund on 12 April 2013 and that the Fund was closed on 19 March 2013.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Kind regards

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Please refer to that attached correspondence to Loraine.

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Dear Kordamentha

Reference to your e-mail dated 24th August 2017.

I understand that Kordamentha and the court should take such important and necessary action on the basis of LM Prospectus.
Kindly note that both authorities have to decide what exactly LM prospectus say.
My funds were matured before LM solvency and LM kept my money without my authority.
My funds should be refunded according to LM prospectus.

I hope that both authorities have to understand my request as a very serious matter.

Thanking you for your co-operation and I hope to receive my full amount invested and matured before LM being insolvent at your earliest convenience.

Best regards

Dear Kordamentha

As you maybe aware, I have sent you two e-mails dated 15th July and 11th August 2017 and both of them were not replied by yourselves.

Such attitude do not encourage or satisfy investors.

I am just reminding you so that we innocent investors will get some sort of hope to recover our matured investment before LM became insolvent

I still insist that my funds should be refunded to me without further delay.

Matured funds should be refunded because LM did not have any wright to keep them. This may be confirmed by LM prospectus.

Your co-operation and assistance is highly appreciated.

Dear Kordamentha

Reference to your e-mail dated 3rd July and to my e-mail (being reply to Kordamentha) dated 3rd July 2017 also.

As I have told you several times, my funds matured before LM was insolvent. LM kept my matured money without my authority. Their prospectus does not say that LM have the right to keep my matured funds and so this is illegal. Kordamentha cannot threat all investors the same of those investors who had matured funds or not because LM prospectus do NOT say so. This decision taken by Kordamentha or court is against LM prospectus. LM kept my money illegal and so Kordamentha should refund me back my matured money. This decision should not be sent by Kordamentha to court as this is against LM prospectus. The reality for such decision should be taken by Kordamentha on what is written in the prospectus and not in court decisions.

A FUNDAMENTAL EVIDENCE IS REQUIRED FOR SUCH DECISION TO BE TAKEN WHETHER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT. I STILL INSIST THAT SUCH DECISIONS HAS TO BE TAKEN ON THE REALLITY OF LM PROSPECTUS AND NOT BY COURT.

I hope to receive my full amount of funds without further delay as I have been chasing my money which have matured on 12th August 2012 i.e. nearly five years now.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation and assistance.

My Money were kept by LM without my authority and such decision by LM is against their prospectus so this is completely illegal and in my opinion this is completely fraud. This is the main reason that my money should be paid back in full and without any further delay.

MATURED FUNDS BEFORE INSOLVENCY SHOULD BE PAID TO ALL INVESTORS BECAUSE LM PROSPECTUS DOES NOT COVER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT DECISION.

Hoping that my case will be treaded accordingly and as per whole truth.

Thanking you for your co-operation.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Kind regards

Trustee of LM Managed Performance Fund

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Please refer to that attached correspondence to Loraine.

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Dear Kordamentha

Reference is made to my last e-mail sent to you dated 26th August 2017.

Appreciate if Kordamentha acknowledge receipt or advice progress to my request relating in refunding my full amount invested in LM which were matured before LM insolvency.

I still insist that my matured funds have to be refunded according to LM prospectus and not threated the same as those investors with non-matured funds.

Hoping to receive a positive reply to the above.

Dear Kordamentha

As you maybe aware, I have sent you two e-mails dated 15th July and 11th August 2017 and both of them were not replied by yourselves.

Such attitude do not encourage or satisfy investors.

I am just reminding you so that we innocent investors will get some sort of hope to recover our matured investment before LM became insolvent

I still insist that my funds should be refunded to me without further delay.

Matured funds should be refunded because LM did not have any wright to keep them. This may be confirmed by LM prospectus.

Your co-operation and assistance is highly appreciated.

KordaMentha or the court should give ME WRITTEN EVIDENCE IF THEY ARE GOING TO TREAT ME THE SAME AS THOSE INVESTORS THAT HAD NO MATURED FUNDS.

LM PROSPECTUS DO NOT SAY THAT INVESTORS WITH MATURED FUNDS AND THOSE INVESTORS WHO HAD NO MATURED FUNDS HAVE TO BE TREATED THE SAME.

You are kindly requested to send my money back in full without any further delay.

Thanking you for your assistance and co-operation.

Their prospectus does not say that LM have the right to keep my matured funds and so this is illegal. Kordamentha cannot threat all investors the same of those investors who had matured funds or not because LM prospectus do NOT say so. This decision taken by Kordamentha or court is against LM prospectus. LM kept my money illegal and so Kordamentha should refund me back my matured money. This decision should not be sent by Kordamentha to court as this is against LM prospectus. The reality for such decision should be taken by Kordamentha on what is written in the prospectus and not in court decisions.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

> We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

I hope to receive all my money back because LM have kept my money after maturity without my authority. My funds matured in August 2012 and these funds should have been refunded to me in August 2012.

As you know I am still without my money back, because LM kept my money against their prospectus which is illegal.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

As such we are unable to process any distributions to unitholders until the completion of the winding up.

The Trustee will advise if and when it is in a positon to make a distribution.

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Best Regards

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

I understand that the Trusties should advice court authority to action that according to LM prospectus, i.e. the unitholders of matured funds before LM insolvency should NOT be treated the same as the unitholders who did not have matured funds before LM insolvency.
LM Prospectus should be taken into consideration FIRST if decision is to be taken seriously whether by court and whether by Trusties.

Kindly note that I am still waiting for my MATURED funds invested.

As you maybe aware, I have sent you two e-mails dated 15th July and 11th August 2017 and both of them were not replied by yourselves.

Such attitude do not encourage or satisfy investors.

I am just reminding you so that we innocent investors will get some sort of hope to recover our matured investment before LM became insolvent

I still insist that my funds should be refunded to me without further delay.

Matured funds should be refunded because LM did not have any wright to keep them. This may be confirmed by LM prospectus.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Best Regards

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Since LM have kept my money after they have been matured without my authority and against their prospectus, I am still expecting my full amount of money back with further delay.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my request as soon as possible.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation and assistance.

I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Kind Regards,

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Lorraine,

I apologise for the delay in response to your email.

I confirm that we are not aware of any Australian regulator compensation scheme which is available to the unitholders of the Managed Performance Fund.

The Trustee will advise unitholders if it becomes aware of any such scheme.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Reference is being made to your last e-mail dated today 27th September 2017.
Kindly note that my e-mail should not be noted only but actioned as I am still waiting from Kordamentha to refund me the amount invested which have matured BEFORE LM INSOLVENCY.

Please be guided accordingly as payment should be settled according to LM prospectus. My funds should have been paid to me by August 2012 and Kordamentha should have effected payment according to Lm prospectus.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation and assistance.

I understand that the Trusties should advice court authority to action that according to LM prospectus, i.e. the unitholders of matured funds before LM insolvency should NOT be treated the same as the unitholders who did not have matured funds before LM insolvency.

LM Prospectus should be taken into consideration FIRST if decision is to be taken seriously whether by court and whether by Trusties.

Kindly note that I am still waiting for my MATURED funds invested.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance. Hoping to receive a positive reply.

As you maybe aware, I have sent you two e-mails dated 15th July and 11th August 2017 and both of them were not replied by yourselves.

Such attitude do not encourage or satisfy investors.

I am just reminding you so that we innocent investors will get some sort of hope to recover our matured investment before LM became insolvent

I still insist that my funds should be refunded to me without further delay.

Matured funds should be refunded because LM did not have any wright to keep them. This may be confirmed by LM prospectus.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Dear KordaMentha

Futher tp my last e-mail sent to you on Monday 17th April 201.

As you are aware a copy of the original application was sent to you as requested for further investigation.

Since LM have kept my money after they have been matured without my authority and against their prospectus, I am still expecting my full amount of money back with further delay.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my request as soon as possible.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear KordaMentha

As you are aware a copy of the original application have been sent to you as requested for further investigation by MFSP namely Ms Lorainne Falzon.

I hope to receive all my money back because LM have kept my money after maturity without my authority. My funds matured in August 2012 and these funds should have been refunded to me in August 2012.

As you know I am still without my money back, because LM kept my money against their prospectus which is illegal.

I expect my money to be refunded without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my situation more carefully.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover

some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Kind Regards,

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Dear Kordamentha

I would like to thank you for your e-mail dated 27th September 2017.

Kindly note also that LM before their insolvency have sent me a letter in which they have promised me that they shall send me my matured funds later together with the accrued interest. Although LM have kept my matured funds without my authority, LM have written to me that they shall send me my funds with the accrued interest. This letter was sent to me I think in July or August 2012. Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP Malta Financial Advisor whom I have always copied in my e-mails can confirm the above. So this commitment by LM should be abided by Kordamentha by sending me in full my matured funds without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and I hope to receive a positive reply.

Reference is being made to your last e-mail dated today 27th September 2017.

Kindly note that my e-mail should not be noted only but actioned as I am still waiting from Kordamentha to refund me the amount invested which have matured BEFORE LM INSOLVENCY.

Please be guided accordingly as payment should be settled according to LM prospectus. My funds should have been paid to me by August 2012 and Kordamentha should have effected payment according to Lm prospectus.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation and assistance.

I understand that the Trusties should advice court authority to action that according to LM prospectus, i.e. the unitholders of matured funds before LM insolvency should NOT be treated the same as the unitholders who did not have matured funds before LM insolvency.

LM Prospectus should be taken into consideration FIRST if decision is to be taken seriously whether by court and whether by Trusties.

Kindly note that I am still waiting for my MATURED funds invested.

Such attitude do not encourage or satisfy investors.

I am just reminding you so that we innocent investors will get some sort of hope to recover our matured investment before LM became insolvent

I still insist that my funds should be refunded to me without further delay.

Matured funds should be refunded because LM did not have any wright to keep them. This may be confirmed by LM prospectus.

My Money were kept by LM without my authority and such decision by LM is against their prospectus so this is completely illegal and in my opinion this is completely fraud. This is the main reason that my money should be paid back in full and without any further delay.

MATURED FUNDS BEFORE INSOLVENCY SHOULD BE PAID TO ALL INVESTORS BECAUSE LM PROSPECTUS DOES NOT COVER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT DECISION.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Dear KordaMentha

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thanking you in advance for your earliest co-operation and assistance.

Regards

Charles Borg

We note your continued emails regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

I advise that the Trustee is not in a position to make any distribution in respect to your investment, regardless of whether the investment matured prior to the closure of the Fund. As previously advised, the Fund is being wound up and any return to investors will be dependent on the outcome of the winding up.

Dear Sir / Madam KordaMentha

Please be advised that when I have invested in LM, I have agreed with LM that such funds were being invested for TWO YEARS ONLY. Such funds were matured and LM were not authorized to keep my funds in their hands. They did not have any right to keep my funds in their hands. I repeat my words that this is completely ILLEGAL and their prospectus doesn't say to do so.

I hope that the responsible people consider again my personal case more fundamentally because I am really desperate and frustrated with such attitude being betrayed by LM in such incredible manner.

I think that MFSP whom I have contacted for this investment in Malta have more reasons and understandings how I have been faced in this problem whom they are always copied with my correspondence with you.

The Truth is that such betrayal should not have existed.

Thanking you as usual for your co-operation and assistance.

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Subject: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Dear Sir / Madam

Please find attached the latest update to Investors.

Should you have any queries following your consideration of the Update, further information can be obtained by:

- accessing the KordaMentha website at http://www.kordamentha.com/creditor-information/australia/109;

- if you are unable to find the answer to your query in any of our Updates or Frequently Asked Questions listing then you may email lminvestors@kordamentha.com; (In order to manage the ongoing management costs of the Fund, due to the high volume of enquires made via email the Trustees will only review and respond to emails on a fortnightly basis).

Please note that the Trustees make every attempt to answer your enquiries on a regular basis however due to the number of queries received and our focus on managing costs of the Fund there may be some delay in responding to your individual requests. We appreciate your patience whilst we manage the large volume of emails and telephone calls received during this time.

Yours sincerely

Dear Kordamentha

Thank you for your e-mail of today 3rd October 2017.
I still insist that Kordamentha should abide according to LM letter sent to me before the distribution of funds.
Lm have kept my funds without my authority and instead of effecting payment on maturity as per prospectus, LM have sent me a letter and promised me that funds will be paid at 100% together with the accrued interest. So Kordamentha should do what Lm has promised before distribution of funds and this is according to their prospectus and their official letter sent to me before maturity of my funds and before their insolvency. So you are kindly requested to send me my full funds without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation.

Best regards

Dear Kordamentha

I would like to thank you for your e-mail dated 27th September 2017.

Kindly note also that LM before their insolvency have sent me a letter in which they have promised me that they shall send me my matured funds later together with the accrued interest. Although LM have kept my matured funds without my authority, LM have written to me that they shall send me my funds with the accrued interest. This letter was sent to me I think in July or August 2012. Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP Malta Financial Advisor whom I have always copied in my e-mails can confirm the above. So this commitment by LM should be abided by Kordamentha by sending me in full my matured funds without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and I hope to receive a positive reply.

Thank you for your email.

As previously advised, whilst we note your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

We further emphasize that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that the ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

I understand that the Trusties should advice court authority to action that according to LM prospectus, i.e. the unitholders of matured funds before LM insolvency should NOT be treated the same as the unitholders who did not have matured funds before LM insolvency.

LM Prospectus should be taken into consideration FIRST if decision is to be taken seriously whether by court and whether by Trusties.

Kindly note that I am still waiting for my MATURED funds invested.

As you maybe aware, I have sent you two e-mails dated 15th July and 11th August 2017 and both of them were not replied by yourselves.

Such attitude do not encourage or satisfy investors.

I am just reminding you so that we innocent investors will get some sort of hope to recover our matured investment before LM became insolvent

I still insist that my funds should be refunded to me without further delay.

Matured funds should be refunded because LM did not have any wright to keep them. This may be confirmed by LM prospectus.

My matured funds before LM insolvency and according to their prospectus should have been refunded to me in FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY.

KordaMentha or the court should give ME WRITTEN EVIDENCE IF THEY ARE GOING TO TREAT ME THE SAME AS THOSE INVESTORS THAT HAD NO MATURED FUNDS.

LM PROSPECTUS DO NOT SAY THAT INVESTORS WITH MATURED FUNDS AND THOSE INVESTORS WHO HAD NO MATURED FUNDS HAVE TO BE TREATED THE SAME.

You are kindly requested to send my money back in full without any further delay.

Reference to your e-mail dated 3rd July and to my e-mail (being reply to Kordamentha) dated 3rd July 2017 also.

As I have told you several times, my funds matured before LM was insolvent. LM kept my matured money without my authority. Their prospectus does not say that LM have the right to keep my matured funds and so this is illegal. Kordamentha cannot threat all investors the same of those investors who had matured funds or not because LM prospectus do NOT say so. This decision taken by Kordamentha or court is against LM prospectus. LM kept my money illegal and so Kordamentha should refund me back my matured money. This decision should not be sent by Kordamentha to court as this is against LM prospectus. The reality for such decision should be taken by Kordamentha on what is written in the prospectus and not in court decisions.

A FUNDAMENTAL EVIDENCE IS REQUIRED FOR SUCH DECISION TO BE TAKEN WHETHER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT. I STILL INSIST THAT SUCH DECISIONS HAS TO BE TAKEN ON THE REALLITY OF LM PROSPECTUS AND NOT BY COURT.

I hope to receive my full amount of funds without further delay as I have been chasing my money which have matured on 12th August 2012 i.e. nearly five years now.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation and assistance.

My Money were kept by LM without my authority and such decision by LM is against their prospectus so this is completely illegal and in my opinion this is completely fraud. This is the main reason that my money should be paid back in full and without any further delay.

MATURED FUNDS BEFORE INSOLVENCY SHOULD BE PAID TO ALL INVESTORS BECAUSE LM PROSPECTUS DOES NOT COVER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT DECISION.

Hoping that my case will be treaded accordingly and as per whole truth.

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Dear Sir / Madam KordaMentha

Please be advised that when I have invested in LM, I have agreed with LM that such funds were being invested for TWO YEARS ONLY. Such funds were matured and LM were not authorized to keep my funds in their hands. They did not have any right to keep my funds in their hands. I repeat my words that this is completely ILLEGAL and their prospectus doesn't say to do so.

I hope that the responsible people consider again my personal case more fundamentally because I am really desperate and frustrated with such attitude being betrayed by LM in such incredible manner.

I think that MFSP whom I have contacted for this investment in Malta have more reasons and understandings how I have been faced in this problem whom they are always copied with my correspondence with you.

The Truth is that such betrayal should not have existed.

Thanking you as usual for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

As noted in prior updates to Investors, the estimated future return to Unitholders is likely to be less than five cents in a dollar.

Given the winding up process is ongoing and the outcome is contingent on current/future litigation, it is not possible to provide any certainty with respect to a final dividend.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my e-mail dated 3rd October 2017.
I would like again to remind you that LM before they went insolvent has sent me a letter confirming to me that they will send me my full amount invested together with the accrued interest later after the maturity date.
So Kordamentha should abide by LM promises to those investors who had matured funds. This promise is abided by their prospectus and so Kordamentha should not go out of their prospectus.

I hope that Kordamentha will send me my matured funds in August 2012 without further delay as abided by LM,

Thanking you for your co-operation.

Best regards
Charles Borg

Thank you for your e-mail of today 3rd October 2017.
I still insist that Kordamentha should abide according to LM letter sent to me before the distribution of funds. Lm have kept my funds without my authority and instead of effecting payment on maturity as per prospectus, LM have sent me a letter and promised me that funds will be paid at 100% together with the accrued interest. So Kordamentha should do what Lm has promised before distribution of funds and this is according to their prospectus and their official letter sent to me before maturity of my funds and before their insolvency. So you are kindly requested to send me my full funds without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation.

Dear Kordamentha

I would like to thank you for your e-mail dated 27th September 2017.

Kindly note also that LM before their insolvency have sent me a letter in which they have promised me that they shall send me my matured funds later together with the accrued interest. Although LM have kept my matured funds without my authority, LM have written to me that they shall send me my funds with the accrued interest. This letter was sent to me I think in July or August 2012. Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP Malta Financial Advisor whom I have always copied in my e-mails can confirm the above. So this commitment by LM should be abided by Kordamentha by sending me in full my matured funds without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and I hope to receive a positive reply.

I understand that the Trusties should advice court authority to action that according to LM prospectus, i.e. the unitholders of matured funds before LM insolvency should NOT be treated the same as the unitholders who did not have matured funds before LM insolvency.

LM Prospectus should be taken into consideration FIRST if decision is to be taken seriously whether by court and whether by Trusties.

Such attitude do not encourage or satisfy investors.

Matured funds should be refunded because LM did not have any wright to keep them. This may be confirmed by LM prospectus.

Their prospectus does not say that LM have the right to keep my matured funds and so this is illegal. Kordamentha cannot threat all investors the same of those investors who had matured funds or not because LM prospectus do NOT say so. This decision taken by Kordamentha or court is against LM prospectus. LM kept my money illegal and so Kordamentha should refund me back my matured money. This decision should not be sent by Kordamentha to court as this is against LM prospectus. The reality for such decision should be taken by Kordamentha on what is written in the prospectus and not in court decisions.

A FUNDAMENTAL EVIDENCE IS REQUIRED FOR SUCH DECISION TO BE TAKEN WHETHER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT. I STILL INSIST THAT SUCH DECISIONS HAS TO BE TAKEN ON THE REALLITY OF LM PROSPECTUS AND NOT BY COURT.

I hope to receive my full amount of funds without further delay as I have been chasing my money which have matured on 12th August 2012 i.e. nearly five years now.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Charles Borg

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear KordaMentha

Thank you for your e-mail dated 23rd October 2017.

I still insist that according to LM prospectus and LM letter sent to me before their insolvency, Kordamentha should refund me the full amount of my matured funds way back August 2012 together with the accrued interest as promised by LM letter. I hope that KordaMentha abide by LM promises without further delay by sending me my matured funds.

LM were bound to keep my money up to August 2012, LM kept my matured funds without my authority, LM promised me with their letter before their insolvency that they will send me 100% of my funds together with accrued interest. So now I hope that Kordamentha will not repeat same mistake and so Kordamentha as trusties should abide such promise of LM letter and send me immediately and without further delay the whole amount due to me.

Thanking you for your co-operation and I hope to receive a positive reply.

Further to my e-mail dated 3rd October 2017.

I would like again to remind you that LM before they went insolvent has sent me a letter confirming to me that they will send me my full amount invested together with the accrued interest later after the maturity date.

So Kordamentha should abide by LM promises to those investors who had matured funds. This promise is abided by their prospectus and so Kordamentha should not go out of their prospectus.

I hope that Kordamentha will send me my matured funds in August 2012 without further delay as abided by LM,

Dear Kordamentha

I would like to thank you for your e-mail dated 27th September 2017.

Kindly note also that LM before their insolvency have sent me a letter in which they have promised me that they shall send me my matured funds later together with the accrued interest. Although LM have kept my matured funds without my authority, LM have written to me that they shall send me my funds with the accrued interest. This letter was sent to me I think in July or August 2012. Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP Malta Financial Advisor whom I have always copied in my e-mails can confirm the above. So this commitment by LM should be abided by Kordamentha by sending me in full my matured funds without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and I hope to receive a positive reply.

I understand that the Trusties should advice court authority to action that according to LM prospectus, i.e. the unitholders of matured funds before LM insolvency should NOT be treated the same as the unitholders who did not have matured funds before LM insolvency.

LM Prospectus should be taken into consideration FIRST if decision is to be taken seriously whether by court and whether by Trusties.

Matured funds should be refunded because LM did not have any wright to keep them. This may be confirmed by LM prospectus.

Reference to your e-mail dated 3rd July and to my e-mail (being reply to Kordamentha) dated 3rd July 2017 also.

As I have told you several times, my funds matured before LM was insolvent. LM kept my matured money without my authority. Their prospectus does not say that LM have the right to keep my matured funds and so this is illegal. Kordamentha cannot threat all investors the same of those investors who had matured funds or not because LM prospectus do NOT say so. This decision taken by Kordamentha or court is against LM prospectus. LM kept my money illegal and so Kordamentha should refund me back my matured money. This decision should not be sent by Kordamentha to court as this is against LM prospectus. The reality for such decision should be taken by Kordamentha on what is written in the prospectus and not in court decisions.

A FUNDAMENTAL EVIDENCE IS REQUIRED FOR SUCH DECISION TO BE TAKEN WHETHER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT. I STILL INSIST THAT SUCH DECISIONS HAS TO BE TAKEN ON THE REALLITY OF LM PROSPECTUS AND NOT BY COURT.

I hope to receive my full amount of funds without further delay as I have been chasing my money which have matured on 12th August 2012 i.e. nearly five years now.

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance and co-operation.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Kordamentha

Reference to your e-mail dated 25th October 2017.

I am again requesting my full amount invested which have matured since August 2012 wherein LM have kept my MATURED FUNDS without my authority by sending me a letter promising me that they are liable to me in refunding all my funds including the accrued interest.
So Kordamentha should not keep my funds and have to abide by LM promises and prospectus.

Kindly note that I have been waiting now over five years and I need my money as soon as possible due to personal commitments and so I cannot wait anymore longer.

So It would be highly appreciated if you may action accordingly without any further delay.

Dear KordaMentha

Thank you for your e-mail dated 23rd October 2017.

I still insist that according to LM prospectus and LM letter sent to me before their insolvency, Kordamentha should refund me the full amount of my matured funds way back August 2012 together with the accrued interest as promised by LM letter. I hope that KordaMentha abide by LM promises without further delay by sending me my matured funds.

LM were bound to keep my money up to August 2012, LM kept my matured funds without my authority, LM promised me with their letter before their insolvency that they will send me 100% of my funds together with accrued interest. So now I hope that Kordamentha will not repeat same mistake and so Kordamentha as trusties should abide such promise of LM letter and send me immediately and without further delay the whole amount due to me.

Thanking you for your co-operation and I hope to receive a positive reply.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my e-mail dated 3rd October 2017.

I would like again to remind you that LM before they went insolvent has sent me a letter confirming to me that they will send me my full amount invested together with the accrued interest later after the maturity date.

So Kordamentha should abide by LM promises to those investors who had matured funds. This promise is abided by their prospectus and so Kordamentha should not go out of their prospectus.

I hope that Kordamentha will send me my matured funds in August 2012 without further delay as abided by LM,

Thanking you for your co-operation.

Best regards

I still insist that Kordamentha should abide according to LM letter sent to me before the distribution of funds.

Lm have kept my funds without my authority and instead of effecting payment on maturity as per prospectus, LM have sent me a letter and promised me that funds will be paid at 100% together with the accrued interest. So Kordamentha should do what Lm has promised before distribution of funds and this is according to their prospectus and their official letter sent to me before maturity of my funds and before their insolvency. So you are kindly requested to send me my full funds without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation.

I would like to thank you for your e-mail dated 27th September 2017.

Kindly note also that LM before their insolvency have sent me a letter in which they have promised me that they shall send me my matured funds later together with the accrued interest. Although LM have kept my matured funds without my authority, LM have written to me that they shall send me my funds with the accrued interest. This letter was sent to me I think in July or August 2012. Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP Malta Financial Advisor whom I have always copied in my e-mails can confirm the above. So this commitment by LM should be abided by Kordamentha by sending me in full my matured funds without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and I hope to receive a positive reply.

I understand that the Trusties should advice court authority to action that according to LM prospectus, i.e. the unitholders of matured funds before LM insolvency should NOT be treated the same as the unitholders who did not have matured funds before LM insolvency.

LM Prospectus should be taken into consideration FIRST if decision is to be taken seriously whether by court and whether by Trusties.

Such attitude do not encourage or satisfy investors.

I am just reminding you so that we innocent investors will get some sort of hope to recover our matured investment before LM became insolvent

I still insist that my funds should be refunded to me without further delay.

Matured funds should be refunded because LM did not have any wright to keep them. This may be confirmed by LM prospectus.

Their prospectus does not say that LM have the right to keep my matured funds and so this is illegal. Kordamentha cannot threat all investors the same of those investors who had matured funds or not because LM prospectus do NOT say so. This decision taken by Kordamentha

This decision should not be sent by Kordamentha to court as this is against LM prospectus. The reality for such decision should be taken by Kordamentha on what is written in the prospectus and not in court decisions.

A FUNDAMENTAL EVIDENCE IS REQUIRED FOR SUCH DECISION TO BE TAKEN WHETHER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT. I STILL INSIST THAT SUCH DECISIONS HAS TO BE TAKEN ON THE REALLITY OF LM PROSPECTUS AND NOT BY COURT.

Dear Kordamentha

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Thanking you for your co-operation and assistance.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Dear Sir / Madam -KordaMentha

As you have stated all distributors were suspended to protect the overall value of the Fund on 19 March 2013. My Funds matured BEFORE such date i.e. AUGUST 2012 and my funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY.

In my opinion this is completely illegal or Fraud.

So kindly note that I need all my funds back as soon as possible and without further delay.

Hope that the responsible persons consider my case urgently as I am really frustrated being faced with such incredible situation.

Dear Sir / Madam

Kindly note that my case is completely different from any other investor. My funds matured in August 2012 and I was promised by LM that my funds will be refunded back with accrued interest. My funds were kept by LM without my authority. My funds were never paid to me till today. This is completely irregular or fraud because I did not renew my funds. My funds were kept by LM after their maturity and LM were still operating their business. LM became insolvent/bankrupt in 2013 and so my funds should be refunded to me in FULL.

I hope that you understand my situation and hope that you consider my frustration to my case in great responsibility.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Best Regards

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Kind regards,

Dear Kordamentha

Reference to your e-mail dated 25th October 2017.

I am again requesting my full amount invested which have matured since August 2012 wherein LM have kept my MATURED FUNDS without my authority by sending me a letter promising me that they are liable to me in refunding all my funds including the accrued interest.
So Kordamentha should not keep my funds and have to abide by LM promises and prospectus.

Kindly note that I have been waiting now over five years and I need my money as soon as possible due to personal commitments and so I cannot wait anymore longer.

So It would be highly appreciated if you may action accordingly without any further delay.

Dear KordaMentha

Thank you for your e-mail dated 23rd October 2017.

I still insist that according to LM prospectus and LM letter sent to me before their insolvency, Kordamentha should refund me the full amount of my matured funds way back August 2012 together with the accrued interest as promised by LM letter. I hope that KordaMentha abide by LM promises without further delay by sending me my matured funds.

LM were bound to keep my money up to August 2012, LM kept my matured funds without my authority, LM promised me with their letter before their insolvency that they will send me 100% of my funds together with accrued interest. So now I hope that Kordamentha will not repeat same mistake and so Kordamentha as trusties should abide such promise of LM letter and send me immediately and without further delay the whole amount due to me.

Thanking you for your co-operation and I hope to receive a positive reply.

As I have told you several times, my funds matured before LM was insolvent. LM kept my matured money without my authority. Their prospectus does not say that LM have the right to keep my matured funds and so this is illegal. Kordamentha cannot threat all investors the same of those investors who had matured funds or not because LM prospectus do NOT say so. This decision taken by Kordamentha or court is against LM prospectus. LM kept my money illegal and so Kordamentha should refund me back my matured money. This decision should not be sent by Kordamentha to court as this is against LM prospectus. The reality for such decision should be taken by Kordamentha on what is written in the prospectus and not in court decisions.

A FUNDAMENTAL EVIDENCE IS REQUIRED FOR SUCH DECISION TO BE TAKEN WHETHER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT. I STILL INSIST THAT SUCH DECISIONS HAS TO BE TAKEN ON THE REALLITY OF LM PROSPECTUS AND NOT BY COURT.

I hope to receive my full amount of funds without further delay as I have been chasing my money which have matured on 12th August 2012 i.e. nearly five years now.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Dear KordaMentha

I am still waiting a reply from your end to my e-mail dated16th January 2017.

I repeat again my case. My funds matured in August 2012 and my money were kept by LM without my authority. This is completely illegal and against Lm prospectus. So I am still waiting for the refund of my money in FULL.

I hope that my case will be considered by the responsible people who are taking care of such liquidation. My money should have been refunded upon maturity i because LM were not Insolvency.

I hope that this time my e-mail shall be answered and hoping a positive reply as I am really frustrated with such situation.

Thanking you in advance for your earliest co-operation and assistance.

Regards

Charles Borg

I advise that the Trustee is not in a position to make any distribution in respect to your investment, regardless of whether the investment matured prior to the closure of the Fund. As previously advised, the Fund is being wound up and any return to investors will be dependent on the outcome of the winding up.

Whilst I note that your investment matured prior to closure of the fund, no distribution will be made outside of the ordinary course of the winding up.

Should a distribution be made, it will be on a pro rata basis and likely be less than five cents in the dollar. We further note that no distribution will be made to any unitholders until such a time that ongoing litigation has been substantially finalised.

In reference to your request for the refund of your investment funds, we can confirm that it will be treated in the same manner as all other unitholders as outlined above and in prior correspondence.

As a result of the Fund's closure, all distributions were suspended so as to protect the overall value of the Fund.

The Trustee does not currently have the infrastructure to trace these transactions.

Given the Fund is currently being wound up, the monies will not be repaid but will instead be included in this accounts overall unit holding for the purposes of calculating it's pro-rata share of any final distribution (if available).

Dear Sir / Madam

I am Charles Borg who invested in LM Managed Performance Funds.

As you are aware Ms Lorraine Falzon from MFSP have sent you three e-mails and another was sent by myself. My funds were matured in August 2012 that is before LM became insolvent. My funds were kept by LM without my consent and I was promised by LM with two letters that they will pay me back by money together with the accrued interest later on. My funds were never refunded since to-date and also the accrued interest. So I was completely betrayed by LM.

My funds were invested for two years only that is from August 2010 to August 2012 and I am still without my Eur 5000 and accured interest. My case is completely different from other investors because my funds matured in 2012 before LM went bankrupt and my funds were kept by LM without my authority.

So, I need to know when such funds will be refunded to me from all the responsible authorized persons at your earliest convenience because I have been waiting for my funds over four year now.

I would like to thank all concerned in advance for the earliest assistance and co-operation to the above. I hope also to consider my frustration in such a situation.

Good afternoon,

As per my email of the 24th May 2016 (copy below) and a reminder on the same subject on 30th June 2016. We greatly appreciate that our questions raised in our email of 24th May 2016 will be address as soon as possible either via email or through the next Investor update. We are being bombarded with client enquiries on the future of their capital and what possibility there is, if investors in the LM Managed Performance Fund can recover some of their capital through the Australian Investor compensation scheme, since the trustees of the fund (LMIM) were regulated by the Australian Regulator.

Mr. Charles Borg is being copied in my email, because he is an investor in the LM MPF, who invested through MFSP Financial. Mr. Borg had his investment of €5,000 maturing 19th August 2012 (copy of contract note attached), months before that LMIM announced on 20th March 2013 that John Park and Ginette Muller of FTI consulting were appointed as Voluntary Administrators.

Rightly so Mr. Borg is asking that he should have received the funds as per the contract stipulated between the LM MPF and himself, and therefore he should be treated differently from other investors who had their investment maturing after 20th March 2013. We would appreciate your reply in this regard as well and copy Mr. Borg in your reply.

Subject: RE: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

Good afternoon,

We are a Financial Services company in Malta, regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority, whicj introduced a number of Maltese investors in the LM Australian Income Fund and the LM Managed Performance Fund. From the updates we are receiving we are more of the view that LMIM as the trustees of the LM Managed Performance Fund, did not perform their duties in the best interest of investors, to say it mildly. MFSP Financial had investors in the LM MPF that their investment matured in January 2013 and February 2013, but funds were never paid back to investors. LMIM issued letters to such investors which we have copies of, assuring investors that their capital is safe and earning income. We both know that at that time (Jan 2013) LMIM we fully aware of the financial position of the fund (LM MPF) and they were misleading investors in believing that the fund is sound and safe. This action was taken by LMIM is solely to attract new monies into the fund.

LMIM is a regulated financial services company in Australia, its directors were also approved by the said Authority they are bound with strict regulations, first and foremost to act in the best interest of investors and to manage the funds and the underlying assets in line with the prospectus. We understand that both regulations mentioned above were not taken seriously by LMIM and the mess they did with our clients funds is unheard of, as disclosed in investors update 15. With such behaviour, investors in the LM MPF are facing losing a high percentage of their capital invested because both LMIM and LM MPF do not have sufficient funds to pay investors in the LM MPF, which means are both companies are near to insolvent.

In Malta, when a Regulated Financial Services Company is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it, in general this is when the licensed firm stops trading or becomes insolvent, the Investor Compensation Scheme kicks in. This scheme is a rescue fund for customers of failed investment firms which are licensed by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA). The Scheme is based on the EU Directive 97/9 on investor-compensation schemes. It is financed by investment firms respectively and consumers will not be asked to contribute to the scheme. In Malta consumers are eligible for a maximum compensation of €20,000 per person.

We are also aware that there is a similar scheme is the UK which is managed by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme. The scheme was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and became active on 1 December 2001. MFSP assisted investors who had a claim against a regulated UK Financial Services Company called Catalyst Investment Group because the said company was in default. Consumers were eligible for a maximum compensation of £50,000 per person.

We believe that the Australian Regulator also has in place a form of Investor Compensation Scheme. We believe that investors who were invested in the LM MPF are eligible to submit a claim against LMIM for their miss conduct.

We are aware that you are in touch with the Australian Regulator and are being updated on a regular basis with your findings. Could you please look into the above and guide us how we can assist Maltese investors to submit a claim against LMIM with the Australian Regulator.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Dear Kordamentha

Thank you for your e-mail of today 9th November 2017

Kindly note that I have been waiting for my funds since August 2012 which is over five years now.
Kordamentha should have abided by the promises and LM commitments that have made with me to my matured funds way back in August 2012.
Kordamentha must effect payment without further delay.
Kordamentha should not go against LM promises and prospectus. Matured funds should have been settled.
I hope to hear from you when exactly I shall receive my legitimate funds together with the accrued interest as per LM letter sent to me and Kordamentha should do exactly that LM promised to me on my matured funds.

Thanking you once again for your co-operation.

Dear Kordamentha

Reference to your e-mail dated 25th October 2017.

I am again requesting my full amount invested which have matured since August 2012 wherein LM have kept my MATURED FUNDS without my authority by sending me a letter promising me that they are liable to me in refunding all my funds including the accrued interest.

So Kordamentha should not keep my funds and have to abide by LM promises and prospectus.

Kindly note that I have been waiting now over five years and I need my money as soon as possible due to personal commitments and so I cannot wait anymore longer.

So It would be highly appreciated if you may action accordingly without any further delay.

Thank you for your e-mail dated 23rd October 2017.

I still insist that according to LM prospectus and LM letter sent to me before their insolvency, Kordamentha should refund me the full amount of my matured funds way back August 2012 together with the accrued interest as promised by LM letter. I hope that KordaMentha abide by LM promises without further delay by sending me my matured funds.

LM were bound to keep my money up to August 2012, LM kept my matured funds without my authority, LM promised me with their letter before their insolvency that they will send me 100% of my funds together with accrued interest. So now I hope that Kordamentha will not repeat same mistake and so Kordamentha as trusties should abide such promise of LM letter and send me immediately and without further delay the whole amount due to me.

Thanking you for your co-operation and I hope to receive a positive reply.

Further to my e-mail dated 3rd October 2017.

I would like again to remind you that LM before they went insolvent has sent me a letter confirming to me that they will send me my full amount invested together with the accrued interest later after the maturity date.

So Kordamentha should abide by LM promises to those investors who had matured funds. This promise is abided by their prospectus and so Kordamentha should not go out of their prospectus.

I hope that Kordamentha will send me my matured funds in August 2012 without further delay as abided by LM,

LM Prospectus should be taken into consideration FIRST if decision is to be taken seriously whether by court and whether by Trusties.

Their prospectus does not say that LM have the right to keep my matured funds and so this is illegal. Kordamentha cannot threat all investors the same of those investors who had matured funds or not because LM prospectus do NOT say so. This decision taken by Kordamentha or court is against LM prospectus. LM kept my money illegal and so Kordamentha should refund me back my matured money. This decision should not be sent by Kordamentha to court as this is against LM prospectus. The reality for such decision should be taken by Kordamentha on what is written in the prospectus and not in court decisions.

A FUNDAMENTAL EVIDENCE IS REQUIRED FOR SUCH DECISION TO BE TAKEN WHETHER KORDAMENTHA OR COURT. I STILL INSIST THAT SUCH DECISIONS HAS TO BE TAKEN ON THE REALLITY OF LM PROSPECTUS AND NOT BY COURT.

Further to my last e-mail dated 26th May 2017 for which my email was not replied.

I still insist that my funds should be refunded back IN FULL AND WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY. I repeat my case that my funds were matured in August 2012 before LM insolvency. My funds were kept by LM WITHOUT MY AUTHORITY AND AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS WHICH IS ILLEGAL AND IN MY OPINION THIS IS A CASE OF FRAUD.

It seems that Kordamentha are threatening all investors the same that is those funds that matured and also those funds that were not matured. My funds matured BEFORE INSOLVENCY and that is why should be paid back in full without further delay.

My funds were kept by LM without my authority and that why should be paid back without further delay.

LM kept my MATURED FUNDS WHILE LM IS STILL IN BUSINESS - SO THIS IS AGAINST THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ILLEGAL and that is why my money should be paid back in full without further delay.

It seems that Kordamentha are going to leave the decision of my case in the court hands. So if this is the whole truth, I need such decision in writing as I still understand that LM went against their prospectus and so my money have to be refunded back without further delay.

I am copying always Ms Lorraine Falzon of MFSP to confirm with her that the above is whole truth.

I hope to receive a fundamental proof by court or Kordamentha with regards to my case decision as I need my money back without further delay.

Dear Charles,

I refer to our ongoing correspondence regarding your investment in the LM Managed Performance Fund ('the Fund').

Account transaction details

We confirm that we have received your original application form and have undertaken a review of the transaction history of your investment (as contained in the books and records of the fund).

It is apparent from the transaction history that your investment was not redeemed in full on 20 August 2012, rather, partial redemptions were processed on 20 August 2012 and 20 February 2013. It is understood that this may not have been consistent with your original instructions to the fund.

We can confirm that you are listed as a current unitholder in the fund.

Suspension and delay of redemptions prior to winding up of the fund

Based on our investigations of the fund to date, it is apparent that the fund was not processing all redemptions to unitholders in the ordinary course for a period prior to the closure of the fund in March 2013. We understand that the former Trustee was relying on clauses of the Fund's constitution which allowed a level of discretion regarding withdrawal of units (redemptions). There is also information regarding withdrawal delays and liquidity preservation rules on pages 22 and 28 of the Information Memorandum dated 25 November 2009 (attached).

It is likely that the redemption of your investment in August 2012 was impacted by withdrawal delays being implemented by the fund at the time your investment was due to mature.

Treatment of matured unitholdings

Due to the circumstances of the fund prior to appointment of the Trustee, and particularly due to the delays on unitholder withdrawals being implemented by the Fund, we consider it equitable that all unitholders, including those with investments that had matured and not been paid or those which would otherwise have matured in accordance with investor instructions, be treated equally.

Prior to any distribution made by the Trustee, Court directions will be sought in relation to this matter and we will act in accordance with such Court directions.

Should the Court directions require a different treatment of matured unitholdings, we may need to undertake an assessment of unitholders who were impacted by delayed withdrawals (including your unitholding) and potentially seek further directions in relation to these unitholders.

As per our previous correspondence, the Trustee will provide updates in respect to prospective distributions.

Dear Charles,

Would you please provide a copy of your original application form to enable further investigation by the Trustee regarding your specific investment.

Subject: Re: LM Managed Performance Fund - Update to Investors No. 16

I am very surprised with your service because LM have ignored the agreement and kept my money after maturity without my authority. My deposit was for TWO years ONLY.

I repeat this is ILLEGAL and my money should be PAID IN FULL..

MFSP - Ms Lorianne Falzon can confirm such agreement and I am very frustrated with such situation created by LM.

I really need your reply in writing and not verbally on phone.

I hope that KordaMentha consider my situation more carefully.

Dear Charles,

As previously advised the Trustee is not in a position to make any distribution in respect to your investment, regardless of whether the investment matured prior to the closure of the Fund.

To prevent further lengthy email communication, it may be easier to arrange a time for a telephone call to discuss your individual investment. If you would like to arrange a call, please nominate 2-3 dates and times (during Australian business hours) which are suitable to you and we will provide you with a phone number.
